

Elites are profiting off of Americans and setting up a political system that benefits them and not you.

Cash for influence seems to be a common theme with politicians today. Wall Street mega donors are giving millions of dollars to the Biden campaign and there is a Deep State working to undermine the Trump Administration. What is really driving this?

It now appears the Biden family has taken millions of dollars from Burisma in the Ukraine, Russia, and Chinese state-owned companies linked to a top official of the CCP. No wonder Joe Biden does not see China as a threat.

The New York Post released new information that, if authenticated, shows the Biden family was involved in a pay for influence scheme worth millions to them. Separately, a former Hunter Biden business partner, now in jail, has come forward and corroborated the corruption. These activities are concerning as it relates to National Security and economic concerns. Now it is even more obvious that Silicon Valley, Media Titans, and others within Government are attempting to censor and protect the Biden family against these allegations.

Turn on the TV and you'll see what the media wants you to see. All this lends itself to the Deep State and cultural Marxism. There is a pre-planned Marxist effort to take down America permanently and end our constitutional republic. Unfortunately, many inside Washington and our elected politicians are putting personal gain over America.

This is Economic Warfare with a direct impact on your future!

With this corruption, America faces a clear and present danger that puts your money, livelihood, and way of life at risk like never before.

To help with your briefing this week we brought Rich Higgins back into the Economic War Room® to share his insights working inside Deep State.

“President Trump is seen as a clear and present danger to the Deep State, Marxists, the Chinese Communist Party, and Jihadis among others. That is why his first term was challenged and disrupted BEFORE his inauguration. There is a very real fear that, left unopposed, a second Trump term would be the death of the radical plot against America.” –Rich Higgins

Rich is a former NSC employee who was cast out of the White House by the Deep State. He joins us in the Economic War Room to warn about the existential threats to our nation from a collaboration of the Deep State, domestic Marxist groups, the Chinese Communist Party, and Jihadis.

Your Mission: To better understand the Deep State playbook and learn how to defend the America we know and love.

“Rich Higgin’s dared to write a memo that reached President Trump. The memo was formal and professional. It was about a significant threat not only to the President but also to our beloved country. He dared to tell the truth and fulfill his oath of office. He did his job and he was fired for it.” –Kevin Freeman

(OSINT) Open Sourced Intelligence Briefing. Your briefing includes highlights from Economic War Room and Rich Higgins.

Additional background: Rich served on the National Security Council for the Trump Administration as Director of Strategic Planning. He is currently VP of Unconstrained Analytics.

Rich spent 20 years combating terrorism and is an expert on the nexus between theological doctrine, the information age and unconventional warfare. Rich served at the National Security Council in the Trump administration as the director of strategic planning. He was removed in 2017 after warning of a Deep State planned coup to remove the President. In 2004 he formed the Department of Defense's Irregular Warfare Support Program, and he served as the organization's first program manager until June 2010. In this role, he was directly responsible for the creation of several new strategic and operational capabilities. From 2011 to 2013, he managed a classified project for Special Operations Command. He's advised the White House, Congress, and foreign governments on strategy, technology and terrorism. He's a US Army veteran and he holds a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering from Tufts University and a Master's Degree in Strategic Security from the National War College.

1. The Politicization of our Intelligence and National Security Communities during the Obama administration.

Rich shares his experience in the Obama Administration where there was a clear political agenda put upon everything.

"It was amazing seeing the levels to which the Obama administration would dig down into the bureaucracy. And, in some administrations, you'll see the generals pressured by the politicians and maybe the senior executives are pressured. But in the Obama administration, that pressure made its way well down into the system so that everybody felt it. And anyone who didn't comport with the party line knew that their career was going to be placed in jeopardy by these political appointees during those years. It was really kind of frightening, to be honest with you."

- There was a purge that happened where all these brilliant military officers were forced out because they didn't agree with political matters that had nothing to do with the military.
- It wasn't just that they didn't agree with political matters, per say, it's that the political matters themselves became ideologically driven.
- You weren't allowed to seek the truth or seek the facts, even in organizations chartered to do just that. All were forced into compliance.

"For example, the intelligence community, if you were a fact seeker, you would be punished. If you wanted to speak factually on China, you would be punished. If you wanted to speak factually on Islam or jihad, you would be punished." –Rich Higgins

- It wasn't just questioning the policy. It was thinking differently or prioritizing your daily schedule differently and everybody felt it.
- The organization's drifted over time. It was probably a good two years before they really had their full control in place.
- Once control was in place, there was nothing standing in their way. They could get away with anything. And one of the other things that let them get away with anything is the fact that they controlled the media. And by controlling the media, there was there was no competing narrative to be heard.
- It was very Orwellian. If you didn't exactly tow the line and say the exact things as everybody else, you were out. There was no way to question a policy in any direction.

General Flynn was removed not for what he knew, but what he would have found.

"He would have asked questions that would not just blown up the whole Crossfire Hurricane project but exposed the criminality of the whole FBI team of McCabe, Stozk, Page and the Rest." –The Memo – 20 Years Inside the Deep State Fighting for America First.

2. The Memo - Political Warfare is Real Warfare! How Cultural Marxism, Propaganda, Psychological Warfare, and Information Warfare are being used in DC.

Rich was part of a very small subset of the national security community that operates in this area. It was black propaganda, psychological warfare, and information warfare. He saw these tools being used against the Trump Administration from the inside.

From the Book, The Memo - Rich Outlines his Memo to the President- It started with:

"The Trump administration is suffering under withering information campaigns designed to first undermine, then delegitimize, and ultimately remove the President."

Higgins knew he could not share the memo with the NSC leadership based upon their decisions to date. His hope was that the memo would be read by the President and he would take the necessary measures.

"What I was trying to do was present for the President and his staff, an ontology, some way for them to understand what was happening to them beyond just them reacting to the political headlines of the day. And that got into some of the specific tactics I knew we were seeing right where we had penetrations and subversion. We saw a concerted propaganda campaign with the 'Russia hacked the election' stuff. But to let them understand that there was a lot more organizational structure and decision making behind this, that was obvious to somebody who knew what they were looking for. And in so doing, what I hoped to have them recognize is that there were countermeasures that they could put in place to deal with it."

Rich Higgins defines Cultural Marxism within the “Deep State”- The plan to take America down:

Marxists recognized that one of the real strengths in the West, (particularly the Soviets, but others as well) was our Judeo-Christian cultural basis. What they knew is that to get to the United States, you didn't need to completely invert the United States. You needed to move it away from its true north, which was, the belief in God, the idea that every individual is created in the image of God. And from that basis you begin moving them off of that.

And so they got into cultural institutions, our music, our movies, our literature, our art. And in so doing, they don't necessarily have to completely deform it. They just have to deform it a little bit. It becomes much less resistant to the Marxist belief system at that point. And you've seen it over the years. It's very real. What I think people misunderstand is that there's a degree of intention behind it that, you simply adopt by participating, and it's the nature of the design.

There are a lot of people who are unwittingly Marxists, because of belief systems imparted upon them through the music they listen to or the value systems that the arts, whether it be movies or whatever. That art that they watch inculcates them with and it's slowly done over time. And what we see now is, you know, 60 or 70 or 80 years, really over a hundred years (starting in 1917) into the Marxist revolution.

3. Cultural Marxism is throughout DC and within our National Security, Intelligence and Defense Department.

A. Background:

- America is facing a level of deniability afforded to cultural Marxism. People think it is just a conspiracy from the 50's and 60's.
- Manning Johnson, in his book Color, Communism, and Common Sense, outlined how cultural Marxism infiltrated the US starting in the 1920's. This book reads like the headlines of today. It especially outlines the plot to exacerbate racial tensions.

PAGE 6

- Dr. W. Cleon Skousen also outlined the infiltration and subversion plan in his book, The Naked Communist, published in 1958. This book explains the goal of deep infiltration into education, media, and culture.
- Many Defense, Military and Intelligence officers today are naive to the Cultural Marxist threat. (They do not remember or have experience from the Cold War).

“Go back and listen to testimony from the House un-American Activities Committee and they talked about labeling Americans as racists and they talk about hating America first. The challenge we have is the cultural Marxism has been so effective at penetrating our educational institutions to include our national security, educational institutions that most Americans, even professional trained Defense Department, military officers, intelligence officers, don’t know this stuff. The guys I learned this stuff from are all in their late 70s and early 80s, you know, and functioned operating against this adversary, at the high levels in the Cold War. There aren’t many of them around today who really understand it at that level.”

B. Examples of how politically controlled Media narratives work.

- It’s a catch narrative that’s propagated across mainstream media and social media that you’re trying to drive people towards. It is the same techniques the DOD used in other countries and now they are being used against us.

A contemporary example of that is where Trump is labeled a racist.

“You’ve seen it just in the past couple of years. Trump is a racist. Or Trump doesn’t disavow white supremacy.”

That’s how they’re starting to move him (his perception) in this direction. Next, what you’ll see is they’ll have black propaganda, psychological warfare. A bunch of techniques will be deployed over the next several days to include using key influencers on the Republican side, which we see with John Roberts and others that will be shaping people into that narrative stream. And these are really sophisticated psychological warfare techniques that the average person just isn’t exposed to.”

- Operation CROSSFIRE HURRICANE (The coup attempt to take President Trump down) and the FBI Counterintelligence Operation are examples of political warfare. DC agencies have been weaponized against America.

"I still don't think we've seen it all. I think there's a there's a lot more stuff that's still to be discovered. And I really hope that Attorney General Barr and Durham will bring it forward to the public light. I mean, we desperately need sunlight on this mess." -Rich Higgins

C. Other Narratives (Highlights from the book - The Memo - 20 Years Inside the Deep State Fighting for America First)

A look at the organized messaging and how it was all designed to work together. There is one Overt and four Covert efforts in Political Warfare against Trump.

The OVERT Line of warfare is focused around Publicity.

Publicity/Communications -This is an overt line of warfare. It is the straightforward projection of a case that builds a picture in the audience mind designated to garner support. It is fact without context and information the adversary wants the audience to possess that creates an impression and sets conditions.

The COVERT EFFORTS INCLUDE: Propaganda, Agitation, Psychological Operations, and Infiltration/subversion.

A look at what these tools mean:

- Propaganda – Is the deliberate direction, or even manipulation, of information to achieve a desired outcome. It is an attempt to direct the thinking of an individual without conscious deliberation.
- Agitation – The purposeful exploitation of grievances (real or perceived, true or false) through events or incidents that reinforce narratives at all levels. THINK, NEVER LET A CRISIS GO TO WASTE.
- Psychological Operations – The direct targeting of individuals or individual leaders based on remotely identified and/or assumed psychological vulnerabilities. Attackers find vulnerable points in the targeted individual and create narratives that include trust erosion, ego fracture, paranoia and isolation.

- Infiltration Subversion – operate internal to the targeted organization in order to inform, target, coordinate, and amplify the effects of the publicity and propaganda. The purpose to gather intelligence, obstruct legitimate courses of action, provide inside information and leak sensitive information that undermines the leadership and suppresses the morale of friendly elements.

A Case Study – The Planned and Strategic Narrative Developed Against The Trump Administration and Enemy Campaign plans.

(From the book - The Memo, 20 Years Inside the Deep State Fighting For America First)

The Narrative Development Created Against President Trump. NOTE: These are tactics used in Political Warfare and leveraged in their Covert efforts.

See if you recognize these:

Meta Narratives: Supported by Cultural Marxism memes as a backdrop: These seek to delegitimize President Trump, his administration, and the vision of America.

- “President Trump is Illegitimate”
- “President Trump is Corrupt”
- “President Trump is Dishonest”

Supporting Narratives: These are ongoing supportive narratives that can be swapped out as circumstances warrant

- “Russia hacked the election” – Illegitimate
- “Obstruction of Justice” – Corrupt
- “Hiding Collusion” – Dishonest
- “Putin Puppet” – Treasonous

Backdrop Narratives are Cultural Marxist Memes to sustain a general loathing of President Trump and America that elected him.

An Example:

[“Meta”] President Trump is Illegitimate [“Supporting”] He was elected because of Russian Hacking [“Backdrop”] and besides he is a racist, sexist, xenophobe.

The End State: Attacks on President Trump are not just about destroying him, but also destroying the vision of America that led to his election

4. We are in a war for the future of America. It is not too late to save our Constitutional Republic.

“What President Trump has bestowed upon this country is that he has exposed in great clarity what’s happening here. I don’t know if he’s going to be able to fix it. I mean, it took a long time to get here. His job was to kind of do the demolition, to show where the rot was and to begin to kind of pull out the mold and pull up the old rotten wood. Then we can start the restoration project.”

–Rich Higgins

A Trump Administration that now understands the realities of the ‘Deep State’ and the players within could accomplish much in his second term.

- We may see the best second term of a president in modern history.
- President Trump was not allowed to have a normal first term. Many within DC were purposely working against him and the vision he was elected to carry out.
- Often, a second term can sometimes be a letdown because the Deep State, the empire, strikes back. A clean start could accomplish much in restoring America

Check out: The Memo: 20 Years Inside The Deep State Fighting For America First

Rich outlines his 20-year career working inside the counterterrorism and special warfare communities. He highlights what it looks like when you’re battling against the Bush administration that didn’t want to really talk about Islam, jihad, then dealing with the Obama administration and they’re basically working in alliance with the Muslim Brotherhood and Marxist groups.

The Good News:

There’s a reason President Trump got elected. And there are a lot of folks inside the bureaucracy today to include these national security organizations that support President Trump and what he’s trying to do.

PAGE 10

The Bad News:

For years, those that support the republic have been pushed to the side.

“The thing I found was most frustrating in terms of like identifying the problems inside the system was there was an open reluctance on the on the part of the entire national security leadership staff to see this.

The book is going to reveal a little bit about hat people often ask. ‘How did these people get in here?’ and ‘How did General Mattis get into the administration?’ Well, this book is going to answer some of those questions in great detail. And it’s a story that’s not just about the Trump administration. It’s a story about what’s going on inside the government writ large and how the Trump administration fits into that.” –Rich Higgins

Rich Higgins Identifies The Need and What Needs to Happen to Fix America.

A big part about fixing the problem is identifying those people that support America First, then putting them into leadership positions where they can bring these institutions back into line with the Republic.

We are the Insurgents in our own Homeland

“Now in many ways we are insurgents in our own homeland. And if anything, I think, President Trump needs to embrace his role as the leadership in it. I believe he’s going to get reelected. And when he does on November 4th, I think you’re going to see him move very deliberately to take the country in the direction it needs to go.”

In this case with President Trump, it may be the opposite in the first term. He had too much of the Deep State empire in it. In the second term, he should be fully aware of the problem and he may just clean house and put in phenomenal people. And we may see the best second term of a president in the history of this country.”

–Kevin Freeman

Why you should care?

- The allegations against the Biden family, if confirmed, show major national security threats. The Bidens appear to be compromised by China, Russia, and the Ukraine. They have used influence for personal gain. Are they really looking out for middle America?
- Information warfare, legal warfare, economic warfare, and political warfare are all being utilized against President Trump.
- The narratives are all lined out in this briefing, if you connect the dots you can see how they are designed to delegitimize the American people and the republic. Look at those repeating narratives and it may change your perspective on those who make these statements consistently in the media. Are they deceived or being purposely deceitful as they follow the narrative?
- There is a “Deep State” and while they state they are protecting the Republic. Their actions indicate a different agenda.
- Cultural Marxism is alive and well in the US and many are not even aware of how they have been and continue to be influenced.
- Our agencies have been weaponized. Many in the DOD and Intelligence Community are not old enough to recognize/remember the Cold War threat or be able to see what is really happening.
- Media narratives are being controlled by globalists, elites, and Wall Street. Do you believe their agenda to protect your interest or theirs?
- You recognize that insurgent groups are within the US and their goal is to fundamentally change our form of government.
- It is important to unmask who these insurgence agencies really are so Americans can understand what is really happening and the manipulation behind the scenes.
- The consequence of citizen inaction is to put at risk the Constitution plus our way of life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness. If law abiding patriots across the country do not take prudent action, if they remain subdued and silent, then our nation will be fundamentally altered and cease to function as a republic.

From The Memo drafted by Rich Higgins

“Political Correctness is a weapon against reason and critical thinking. This weapon functions as the enforcement mechanisms of diversity narratives that seek to implement Cultural Marxism.”*

*We believe all are created equal under the image of God, but it is important to understand Political Correctness is linked to Cultural Marxism and has a deeper anti-America agenda.

Action Plan

1. Get the book, The Memo, and understand what is really taking place inside Washington. (click here)
2. Vote! The election is critical and you must understand that the narratives you hear in the media are the narratives they want you to hear.
3. Influence others with what is really happening and consider volunteering at polling locations.
4. To learn more about the "Deep State" read Economic Battle Plans™ 26 and 27 with Congressman Louie Gohmert.
5. Remain Alert and sharpen your critical thinking skills. Does what you hear really make sense or is it part of an agenda that ultimately enriches elites, Wall Street and Globalists. Are you feeling discouraged by the narratives you hear? Understand that is by design. Stay active and stand for America First priorities.
6. We must get on our knees, repent, and pray for our nation. We must pray for the President, for the election, and for the people. This is a spiritual battle and it is light vs. darkness.
7. Don't be silenced. Push back against enemies of the Republic. Don't cede space and power to the insurgents.
8. Be alert and have a plan with your Financial Advisor for all scenarios. Let's keep America exceptional with our giving, spending, and investing. Nominate your financial advisor for Economic War Room training by CLICKING HERE.
9. HELP ALL AMERICANS WAKE UP and be part of saving America. Send this Economic Battle Plan to friends and your financial advisor and ask them to sign up for our weekly battle plan updates at www.economicwarroom.com. Be sure to catch the data and footnotes below for more documentation. We want you to have access to key information to make intelligent decisions.
10. Take this election seriously. This is not a time to sit idly by and watch our liberty disappear. Find good candidates that support the Constitution and will stand up for your rights.
11. This country is under attack from determined collection of well-funded and politically supported revolutionary groups that are growing in size, scope and intensity. They are waging an unconventional war of sedition against the United States of America. This will not end with the election. The republic is in danger. Get involved, do something. We are the small ships.

POTUS & POLITICAL WARFARE
May 2017

by Rich Higgins

POTUS & POLITICAL WARFARE May 2017

BACKGROUND. The Trump administration is suffering under withering information campaigns designed to first undermine, then delegitimize and ultimately remove the President. Possibly confusing these attacks with an elevated interplay of otherwise normal D.C. partisan infighting and adversarial media relations, the White House response to these campaigns reflects a political advocacy mindset that it is intensely reactive, severely under-inclusive and dangerously inadequate to the threat. If action is not taken to re-scope and respond to these hostile campaigns very soon, the administration risks implosion and subsequent early departure from the White House.

This is not politics as usual but rather political warfare at an unprecedented level that is openly engaged in the direct targeting of a seated president through manipulation of the news cycle. It must be recognized on its own terms so that immediate action can be taken. At its core, these campaigns run on multiple lines of effort, serve as the non-violent line of effort of a wider movement, and execute political warfare agendas that reflect cultural Marxist outcomes. The campaigns operate through narratives. Because the hard left is aligned with Islamist organizations at local (ANTIFA working with Muslim Brotherhood doing business as MSA and CAIR), national (ACLU and BLM working with CAIR and MPAC) and international levels (OIC working with OSCE and the UN), recognition must be given to the fact that they seamlessly interoperate at the narrative level as well. In candidate Trump, the opposition saw a threat to the "politically correct" enforcement narratives they've meticulously laid in over the past few decades. In President Trump, they see a latent threat to continue that effort to ruinous effect and their retaliatory response reflects this fear.

INTRODUCTION. Responding to relentless personal assaults on his character, candidate Trump identified the players and the strategy:

- "The establishment and their media enablers will control over this nation through means that are very well known. Anyone who challenges their control is deemed a sexist, a racist, a xenophobe, and morally deformed." – President Trump, Oct 2016

Culturally conditioned to limit responses to such attacks as yet another round in the on-going drone from diversity and multicultural malcontents, these broadsides are discounted as political correctness run amuck. However, political correctness is a weapon against reason and critical thinking. This weapon functions as the enforcement mechanism of diversity narratives that seek to implement cultural Marxism. Candidate Trump's rhetoric in the campaign not only cut through the Marxist narrative, he did so in ways that were viscerally comprehensible to a voting bloc that then made candidate Trump the president; making that bloc self-aware in the process. President Trump is either the candidate he ran as, or he is nothing.

Recognizing in candidate Trump an existential threat to cultural Marxist memes that dominate the prevailing cultural narrative, those that benefit recognize the threat he poses and seek his destruction. For this cabal, Trump must be destroyed. Far from politics as usual, this is a political warfare effort that seeks the destruction of a sitting president. Since Trump took office, the situation has intensified to crisis level proportions. For those engaged in the effort, especially those from within the "deep state" or permanent government apparatus, this raises clear Title 18 (legal) concerns.

DISCUSSION.

The Opposition. While opposition to President Trump manifests itself through political warfare memes centered on cultural Marxist narratives, this hardly means that opposition is limited to Marxists as conventionally understood. Having become the dominant cultural meme, some benefit from it while others are captured by it; including “deep state” actors, globalists, bankers, Islamists, and establishment Republicans. Through the campaign, candidate Trump tapped into a deep vein of concern among many citizens that America is at risk and is slipping away. Globalists and Islamists recognize that for their visions to succeed, America, both as an ideal and as a national and political identity, must be destroyed. Atomization of society must also occur at the individual level; with attacks directed against all levels of group and personal identity. Hence the sexism, racism and xenophobia memes. As a Judeo-Christian culture, forced inclusion of post-modern notions of tolerance is designed to induce nihilistic contradictions that reduce all thought, all faith, all loyalties to meaninglessness. Group rights based on sex or ethnicity are a direct assault on the very idea of individual human rights and natural law around which the Constitution was framed. “Transgender acceptance” memes attack at the most basic level by denying a person the right to declare the biological fact of one’s sex. When a population has $2 + 2 = 5$ imposed on it, there are many that benefit:

- Mainstream Media – The principle mechanism for implementing narratives.
- The Academy – Academia has served as a principle counter-state node for some time and remains a key conduit for creating future adherents to cultural Marxist narratives and their derivative worldview.
- The Deep State - The successful outcome of cultural Marxism is a bureaucratic state beholden to no one, certainly not the American people. With no rule of law considerations outside those that further deep state power, the deep state truly becomes, as Hegel advocated, god bestriding the earth.
- Global Corporatists & Bankers – Exploitation of populations, unfettered by national protections and notions of personal morality and piety.
- Democratic Leadership – The democratic leadership has been a counter-state enabler that executes, sustains, and protects cultural Marxist programs of action and facilitates the relentless expansion of the deep state.
- Republican Leadership – More afraid of being accused of being called a racist, sexist, homophobe or Islamophobe than of failing to enforce their oaths to “support and defend the Constitution,” the Republican Establishment accepts and enforces cultural Marxist memes within its own sphere of operations. In doing so, knowingly or not, it becomes an agent of that. These “conservatives” become increasingly indistinguishable from their democratic counterparts save that they misrepresent themselves to their constituents. Lacking the discernment to recognize their situation, they will work with globalists, corporatists, and the international financial interests and will likewise service the deep state. These establishment Republicans are the hard left’s designated defeat mechanism in the destruction of the old regime as well as the American ideal.¹ Because candidate Trump publicly exposed them for their duplicitous activities, they are at risk as long as Trump can turn on them and are, therefore, bitter foes. Candidate Trump’s success remains an ongoing existential threat to establishment Republicans.

- Islamists – Islamists ally with cultural Marxist because, as far back as the 1980s, they properly assessed that the hard left has a strong chance of reducing Western civilization to its benefit. Having co-opted post-modern narratives as critical points, Islamists deploy these narrative to strategically blind and then control US decision makers. This is by design and purposeful. “By their own hands!” has been the declared strategy of the Muslim Brotherhood since 1991. This strategy seeks to divide American society against itself with the forced imposition of Islamist objectives on one half of American society by the other half. Once a society has been effectively atomized, the population will have lost its faith in the old order, detest those who reduced it, and divide along the lines of narrative adherence. This is the intended outcome of hostile information cum political warfare campaigns and today we see their effects on American society.

Complicating the current situation, many close to the president have pushed him off his message when he was candidate Trump thus alienating him from his base thereby isolating him in the process. When President Trump is not candidate Trump, he becomes dangerously exposed. While the base that elected candidate Trump identified with his vision, they are only Trump’s insofar as he holds to the vision that made him president.

Political Warfare Attacks – A Primer. As used here, “political warfare” does not concern activities associated with the American political process but rather exclusively refers to political warfare as understood by the Maoist Insurgency model.² Political warfare is one of the five components of a Maoist insurgency. Maoist methodologies employ synchronized violent and non-violent actions that focus on mobilization of individuals and groups to action. This approach envisions the direct use of non-violent operational arts and tactics as elements of combat power. In Maoist insurgencies, the formation of a counter-state is essential to seizing state power. Functioning as a hostile competing state acting within an existing state, it has an alternate infrastructure. Political warfare operates as one of the activities of the “counter-state” and is primarily focused on the resourcing and mobilization of the counter state or the exhaustion and demobilization of the targeted political movement. Political warfare methods can be implemented at strategic, operational, or tactical levels of operation.

Political warfare is warfare. Strategic information campaigns designed to delegitimize through disinformation arise out of non-violent lines of effort in political warfare regimes. They principally operate through narratives. Because the left is aligned with Islamist organizations at local, national and international levels, recognition should be given to the fact that they seamlessly interoperate through coordinated synchronized interactive narratives.

Cultural Marxism – A Primer. While the attacks on President Trump arise out of political warfare considerations based on non-kinetic lines of effort (as discussed below), they operate in a battle-space prepared, informed and conditioned by cultural Marxist drivers. In practical terms, the political warfare assault on President Trump cannot be separated from the cultural Marxist narratives that drive them. From an operational preparation of the environment perspective, President Trump is operating in a battle-space that reflects the left’s vision.

² This discussion relies on Thomas A. Marks’ treatment of the Maoist model as discussed in Maoist People’s War in Post-Vietnam Asia (Bangkok, Thailand: White Lotus Press, 2007), 1 – 14. Hereafter “Thomas A. Marks, Maoist People’s War.”

As used in this discussion, cultural Marxism relates to programs and activities that arise out of Gramsci Marxism, Fabian Socialism and most directly from the Frankfurt School. The Frankfurt strategy deconstructs societies through attacks on culture by imposing a dialectic that forces unresolvable contradictions under the rubric of critical theory. The result is induced nihilism, a belief in everything that is actually the belief in nothing.

That post-modern (diversity/multiculturalism) narratives seeks to implement cultural Marxist objectives can be demonstrated by reference to founding Frankfurt School theorist Herbert Marcuse's repurposing of the term tolerance. In a 1965 paper, Marcuse defined tolerance as intolerance; said it can be implemented through undemocratic means to stop chauvinism (xenophobia), racism, discrimination; and should be extended to the left while denied to the right:

- "The realization of the objective of tolerance would call for intolerance toward prevailing policies, attitudes, opinions, and the extension of tolerance to policies, attitudes, and opinions which are outlawed or suppressed."
- "Surely, no government can be expected to foster its own subversion, but in a democracy such a right is vested in the people (i.e. in the majority of the people). This means that the ways should not be blocked on which a subversive majority could develop, and if they are blocked by organized repression and indoctrination, their reopening may require apparently undemocratic means. They would include the withdrawal of toleration of speech and assembly from groups and movements which promote aggressive policies, armament, chauvinism, discrimination on the grounds of race and religion, or which oppose the extension of public services, social security, medical care, etc." (8-9)
- "Liberating tolerance, then, would mean intolerance against movements from the Right and toleration of movements from the Left. As to the scope of this tolerance and intolerance: ... it would extend to the stage of action as well as of discussion and propaganda, of deed as well as of word." (12)

It is through such post-modern constructs that interoperable narratives are established among various left-wing groups as well as between them and Islamist groups at all levels. For example, from the 2001 Conference of Foreign Ministers at Bamako, Mali, the Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC) declared its commitment to fight racism and xenophobia and then declared Islamophobia a "contemporary form of racism":

- In this context, the World Conference urges all states ... take all necessary measures to combat hatred, discrimination, intolerance and acts of violence, intimidation and coercion motivated by racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance particularly against Islam
- Racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance which display an increasing trend, in their most subtle and contemporary forms, constitute a violation of human rights. 3. Contemporary forms of racism are based on discrimination and disparagement on a cultural, rather than biological basis. In this content, the increasing trend of Islamophobia, as a distinct form of xenophobia in non-Muslim societies is very alarming.

That the OIC made these claims as part of its planned inputs to the United Nation's "Third World Conference against Racism, Racial Discrimination, Xenophobia and Related Intolerance" further demonstrates the coordinated and interoperable nature of these narratives at international levels in international forums.

As cultural Marxist narratives intensify, they are to be further operationalized in the form of hate speech narratives. Hate speech narratives are non-random, coordinated, and fully interoperable escalations of cultural Marxist memes. Key international players include the European Union, the UN, and the OSCE, the OIC and the International Muslim Brotherhood. Hate speech memes are structured, coordinated, and implemented through these same international forums. They involve close coordination with media and social media and include the Countering Violent Extremism (CVE) narratives. David Shipler's book Freedom of Speech provides a road map for how hate speech narratives are to be structured, deployed and enforced.

Battlespace. These attack narratives are pervasive, full spectrum and institutionalized at all levels. They operate in social media, television, the 24-hour news cycle in all media, and are entrenched at the upper levels of the bureaucracies and within the foreign policy establishment. They inform the entertainment industry from late night monologues, to situation comedies, to television series memes, to movie themes. The effort required to direct this capacity at President Trump is little more than a programming decision to do so. The cultural Marxist narrative is fully deployed, pervasive, full spectrum and ongoing. Regarding the president, attacks have become a relentless 24/7 effort.

While there is certainly a Marxist agenda and even Islamist motivations that must be seriously addressed in their own right, these motivations alone seem inadequate to explain the scope and magnitude of the effort directed against the president. The economic drivers behind the Marxist and Islamist ideologues are enormously influential and seek to leverage these ideological movements for their own self interests. While beyond the actual scope of this document, the benefactors of these political movements include; Urban Real Estate who depend greatly on immigrant tenants, International Banking who seeks to maintain US debtor status so as to control the application of American power, and elements of the business sector that depend upon immigrant labor or government infrastructure. The overall objective of these economic forces is the forced urbanization of the populace, thereby necessitating a larger, more powerful government. In summary, this is a form of population control by certain business cartels in league with cultural Marxists/corporatists/Islamists who will leverage Islamic terrorism threats to justify the creation of a police state.

Adversary Campaign Plan. Political Warfare has been described as “propaganda in battledress.”³ The effort directed at President Trump is executed along one overt, as well as two covert, lines of effort:

- The overt line of effort is PUBLICITY. Publicity is the straightforward projection of a case that builds a picture in the audience’s mind designed to garner support. It is facts without context and information the adversary wants the audience to possess that creates an impression and sets conditions. It seeks to establish good will and receptiveness to additional inputs.
- There are two covert lines of effort: PROPOGANDA and INFILTRATION/SUBVERSION.
 - Propaganda is the deliberate direction, even manipulation, of information to secure a definite outcome. It is an attempt to direct the thinking of the recipient, without his conscious collaboration, into predetermined channels that are established in the Publicity line of effort. It is the unwitting conditioning of the recipient by devious methods with an ulterior motive that seeks to move them incrementally over time into greater belief and acceptance of message transmitted in the Publicity line of effort.
 - Infiltration and subversion operate internal to the targeted organization in order to inform, target, coordinate, and amplify the effects of the publicity and propaganda. Both operate to gather intelligence, obstruct legitimate courses of action, provide inside information, and leak sensitive information that undermines the leadership and suppresses the morale of friendly elements.

³ “Political Warfare Executive – The Meaning, Techniques and Methods of Political Warfare,” His Britannic Majesty’s Government, London, 1942, 5.

- o Infiltration of political and social groups within a target state is done for the purpose of extending counter-state influence and control. The endgame is concealed and may involve illicit activities.
- o Subversion undermines or detaches the loyalties of significant political and social groups within the target state and transfers political and/or ideological loyalties to the counter-state. As the counter-state forms, a counter-elite of influential individual and key leaders within the target state will later facilitate the legitimacy and permanency of the new regime.

Political warfare employs both publicity and propaganda. It recognizes no intrinsic virtue in the news but rather envisions it as a mechanism to exploit and build up support. From a political warfare perspective, control of the news cycle is the most potent means of attracting and building up a favorable audience. As it relates to the news cycle, publicity and propaganda can be merged to form a "pseudo-publicity" that is presented as news in furtherance of sustaining pseudo-realities maintained by cultural Marxist memes. Pseudo-publicity treatment of President Trump dominates the news cycle. The current campaign against President Trump operates in the following manner:

The Meta Narrative. Meta narratives seeks to delegitimize President Trump, his administration, and the vision of America he projected as a candidate. With cultural Marxist memes serving as the backdrop, President Trump is to be relentlessly characterized as unfit through the use of supporting narratives acting to move unwitting populations to belief in the meta narrative. Hence:

- "President Trump is illegitimate"
- "President Trump is corrupt"
- "President Trump is dishonest"

Note that the twitter accounts and mainstream media personalities pushing this narrative have seen their audience numbers rise greatly in the past 6 months. This is a direct result of the supporting and backdrop narratives channeling individuals to this meta-narrative.

Supporting Narratives. Meta-narratives are supported by an ongoing series supporting-narratives that can be swapped out as circumstances warrant. It is important to recognize that these stories do not have to be true, valid or accurate to serve their purpose. Over time, deserved or not, the cumulative effect of these supporting narratives will result in a Trump fatigue. From a political warfare perspective, President Trump's inability to meet this challenge will cast him as a weak failed leader. The current list of supporting narratives include:

- "Russia hacked the election" - illegitimate
- "Obstruction of Justice" - corrupt
- "Hiding Collusion" - dishonest
- "Putin Puppet" - treasonous

Backdrop Narratives. The backdrop to the meta and supporting narratives are cultural Marxist memes designed to sustain a general sense of loathing of President Trump and the America that elected him. Hence:

- "[meta] President Trump is illegitimate, [supporting] he was elected because of Russian hacking, [backdrop] and besides, he a racist, sexist xenophobe."

Adversaries utilize these interlocking narratives as a defensive political and information warfare screen that silences critics and smears supporters of President Trump. When people in the media question the behavior, actions and decisions of the Trump Administration's opponents, they are immediately said to be "working for the Russians" or "supporting Russian propaganda." Individual Americans who support the President are deemed "deplorable" and "racist."

End State. Attacks on President Trump are not just about destroying him, but also about destroying the vision of America that led to his election. Those individuals and groups seeking the destruction of President Trump actually seek to suffocate the vision of America that made him president. Hence, the end state is not just a delegitimized, destabilized, immobilized and possibly destroyed presidency; but also a demoralized movement composed of a large enough bloc to elect a president that subsequently become self-aware of its own disenfranchisement.

CONCLUSION.

The recent turn of events give rise to the observation that the defense of President Trump is the defense of America. In the same way President Lincoln was surrounded by political opposition both inside and outside of his wire, in both overt and covert forms, so too is President Trump. Had Lincoln failed, so too would have the Republic. The administration has been maneuvered into a constant back-pedal by relentless political warfare attacks structured to force him to assume a reactive posture that assures inadequate responses. The president can either drive or be driven by events; it's time for him to drive them.
