

Lessons from BREXIT and Cause for Optimism

This week Nigel Farage, Mr. Brexit, shares his experience with British politics and the fight against the Socialist Labour Party in England.

Farage stood in the breach and pushed the UK through a stalled Brexit. This was one of the greatest battles we've seen against globalized tyranny in decades. There are a lot of similarities between his fight and the American fight against Marxism and Critical Race Theory.

“There’s a lot of work to do in all areas. But I tell you what, the whole populist revolt, the belief that democracy is more important than the bureaucracy, that was really what the battle against the European Union was all about. There are tough battles ahead, but there are huge grounds for optimism.” -Nigel Farage

Your briefing this week includes his insights and learning’s from Brexit. As Nigel Farage travels with America’s Comeback Tour, he wants to encourage Americans that the battle can be won here and now!

Your Mission: To remain optimistic, stand for freedom and beat this incoming threat. It is time to work a little harder in preparation for the 2022 mid-terms.

“I first worked for Drexel Burnham Lambert back in 1982. So, the whole of my adult life has been very closely intertwined with the USA. What I love about America is the positivity that ‘We Can Do It.’ The American dream, that nothing’s going to stop us regardless of where we come from. If we work hard and have a bit of luck, we can succeed. And it’s that sheer positivity that I love in America.” -Nigel Farage

Ep. 4-147 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Special Report. This includes conversations with Kevin Freeman and Nigel Farage.

Nigel Farage is a British politician, broadcaster and political analyst who was the co-founder in 1993 and leader of the UK Independence Party (UKIP) from 2006 to 2016.

Farage began his career in 1982 as a commodities trader at the London Metal Exchange and ran his own metals brokerage firm after working at Credit Lyonnais Rouse and Drexel Burnham Lambert. He left a successful career to go into politics after the Conservative party signed the Maastricht Treaty, which advocated "ever closer union" between European nations.

In June 2016, Farage was a leading figure in the campaign to leave the EU. This gained him the name "Mr. Brexit" by the then candidate to the US presidency Donald J Trump whom he came to support at a Mississippi rally in 2016. Nigel Farage was one of the very few that predicted that Donald Trump would win the presidential elections.

He has since provided political analysis for both the main Fox News channel and its sister channel Fox Business Network. Farage is also hosting The Nigel Farage Show on the British radio station LBC and is a regular contributor to the Daily Telegraph and the author of several books. In February 2019 he helped to found The Brexit Party as the British government moves to betray the referendum result.

"There are US citizens that hate America and all that we stand for. But do not panic. They are a minority." -Nigel Farage

1. The U.S. needs to fight against the liberal socialist echo chamber.

"The other side has an army. The left has an army. They've got the students in university, they've got trade unions, they've got their ground army. And a lot of people who care about current affairs don't understand just how important grassroots activity work on the ground really is." -Nigel Farage

The importance of the grassroots movement and heartland America.

Farage is touring America to help the US understand they are in a stronger position than they might think.

- » His focus is on Main Street America going out to where the people are.
- » He is targeting the important swing states for 2022 and 2024.
- » The goal is to find thousands of people and give them a sense of optimism.
- » They need to get ready, go out there, and fight for freedom!

The Democrats are making fatal mistakes. Farage shares the parallels he sees with the British Labour Party:

- » They're making the same kind of mistakes the British Labour Party made.
- » There are large numbers of working class, lower income Americans from families who voted Democrat, perhaps for generations, who do not like this hatred of the flag, this tearing down of American history, even talking down the Founding Fathers, who made this nation.
- » There's a feeling out there that the new wave of left-wing Democrats doesn't actually like the country very much at all. And that's just what we had from the British Labour Party.
- » On top of that, you've got the border crisis and immigration. Uncontrolled immigration affects working families more than it does the rich.

For all of these reasons, Americans have a lot to fight for.

2. There is a realignment of politics going on around the world.

It used to be that the Republican party were the party of the rich and privileged. But that is no longer the case.

"I said in 2012 in a TV interview, 'I'm going to cause an earthquake in British politics.' Well, some people thought that was very funny. But I had in mind this dramatic realignment. I think there are reasons, actually, for conservatives to be quite positive about the future, despite how tough it feels today." -Nigel Farage

- » The current situation does not feel good, we have the cancel culture, getting banned for simple comments on Twitter.
- » It seems like the whole world is against us and particularly our own government or our media, and so forth.
- » Farage encourages the US to look at Middle England as an example. They didn't go along with any of this stuff, and that has proved out in a series of elections.
"Do you really think ordinary families living in America, doing their jobs, bringing up their kids, do you think they're impressed by any of this?" -Nigel Farage

NOTE: Beware of the media and social media echo chambers, it doesn't reflect the majority.

“As I say, those sitting at home watching this and thinking, oh, goodness me, is everything lost? No, the vast majority think this stuff is nonsense.”

- › The vast majority do not want their children taught Critical Race Theory.
- › The vast majority do not want to be asked to be divided up into black and white and said that in the end, we all hate each other.

This is a Marxist agenda. And the pawns are well-meaning people who just don't see through this for what it is. But I think the vast majority of people understand something very bad is happening. Fifty years ago, Martin Luther King, made it clear. 'I want my for children to be judged not by the color of their skin, but by the content of their character.' I'm not judging everybody by the color of their skin, by the way.”

—Nigel Farage

~~3. The U.S. is on a slippery slope; it seems to be no longer capitalism but corporatism.~~

- › It seems we have big business, big government and one or two big banks working together on virtually everything!
- › This creates a regulatory framework in which its very difficult for new entrants to come into the market.
- › Then, when the big businesses fail, the taxpayer bails them out.

This also makes it difficult for Main Street America to create real economic growth!

“Thatcher and Reagan actually understood that real economic growth doesn't come from a handful of big companies. It comes from millions of individuals, entrepreneurs taking risks, doing things that real economic growth that's healthy comes from the bottom up.” —Nigel Farage

4. Surprise, Wall Street may not have your best interest in mind. It is time for middle America to weaponize their money. A look at investments today.

- » The truth is the money does not belong to Wall Street. It belongs to the pensioner. It belongs to the individual. It belongs to the investor.
- » A big problem with investing is that it is always surrounded by mystique.
- » It is almost like saying, look you are the “little people.”

“And I’ve noticed, you know, if we just give our money to the moneymen in London and say, look after this for us, please, over the course of the next 30 years, about 25 percent of it just disappears in fees and everything else.” –Nigel Farage

- » We must weaponize our money and work together.
- » It is about investing in things the preserve America instead of destroying America.
- » With the NSIC, Main Street America can align and mobilize around a shared voice.

“When you unravel this stuff and people can understand how they can invest in gold, how they can invest in stocks, and you know what the pitfalls are to avoid. There’s no mistake about it at all. And I’m absolutely convinced that what the NSIC is doing the right thing. People with sensible advice, just following a few basic rules can do much better for themselves than trusting the big guys on Wall Street.” –Nigel Farage

Case Study – The advisor that represents the client, not the company! Kevin Freeman shares an important lesson he learned from his father back in 1968.

We train individual client-facing financial advisors who realize, like my dad did as a stockbroker. He told me back in 1968 when he started, ‘I don’t work for the company whose name is on the door. I work for the client.’ And if the company whose name is on the door is not serving the client, he can move to a new company. It’s the client’s money and the advisor’s job is to serve the client. So, we’re training financial advisors.

It’s part of what we do here in the Economic War Room because people, if they weaponize their money, can make a difference. I think we can take the country back. Just following the Brexit pattern that Nigel Farage helped lead.

“Self-confidence is the key to almost everything in life. You’ve got to have a bit of belief in yourself, your community, your country, and it's surprising what you can do." -Nigel Farage

CAUTION: Beware of big government.

If we give in and let the government take care of us, which is what the whole message of the pandemic has been, let the government take care of us. We'll give out lots of money and then we'll raise taxes. That's just as a path to socialism.

In terms of personal liberty, the pandemic has been a bit of a disaster, you know, on both sides of the pond and all around the Western world. And isn't it amazing? Governments take powers very quickly. But they are very, very, slow to give them back.

Again, these are all big battles that all of us must fight right over the next few years.

5. In today's world Wall Street is pushing ESG / In the Economic War Room we focus on LSV. It is about the Individual being bigger than the Government. Not the Government being bigger than the people.

- » Economic War Room is focused on focus on Liberty, Security, and Values vs. the Environmental (Eliminate fossil fuels), Social (Justice/Critical Race Theory), and Governance (Gender/Racial quota) approach.

"We promote liberty, personal liberty and economic liberty. So free enterprise, (capitalism), security (personal security like our Second Amendment, but also national security) and values, which would be Judeo-Christian Western civilization values." – Kevin Freeman

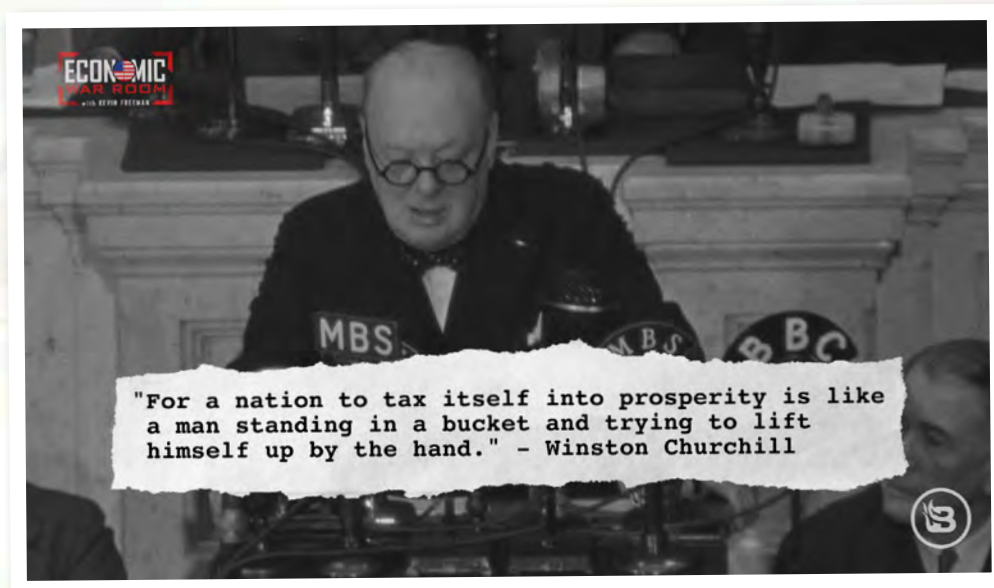

- » Remember it was the small ships at Dunkirk that were more effective than the Navy.
- » The Wall Street Navy is not going to save America. We need the individual small ships.
- » This recent pandemic is a good example of how governments take powers and freedoms quickly but are slow to give them back.

6. There are some big battles ahead over taxes on the Biden agenda.

You can see where the Biden administration is perhaps on a rush, because they must fear that what happens at the midterms is they begin to lose the ability to do some of these things.

Watch out over the course of the next 18 months.

Look at the results of higher taxes:

- » People are leaving states with higher taxes.
- » Punitive taxes give a lower overall tax return to the states or countries because people move out.

"You would have thought that the left would have learned the lessons that punitive taxes, in fact, they should give a lower tax return because people simply move. But they haven't learned the lesson. And it's almost because I think some of them running this agenda actually hate success." -Nigel Farage

- » Biden wants a global tax because he knows that if the corporate tax is raised, companies will move to other countries.
- » Clearly, individual states should run their own affairs.
- » Now as they want to raise corporate taxes and then you realize US companies will go to other places.

Biden's answer is a global tax.

"We're back to the bad old days of Obama and globalization. And of course, that was why Obama supported the European Union so much. And Trump, I'm pleased to say, believed in individual nation states running their own affairs." -Nigel Farage

7. We can and should be optimistic! Farage shares what we can look forward to in the future

- » Worse is sometimes better. The new left is so out of touch with ordinary people that many are finally seeing what is happening.

"I remember Norman Tebbit, who was Mrs. Thatcher's deputy for some time, telling me a few years ago the best thing that happened to Margaret Thatcher was the 1978/79 winter of discontent, mass strikes, rubbish piling up on the pavement of London, rats running in the street, the country falling to pieces. And Norman Tebbit said, because it got so bad, we were able to put some really radical alternative policies in place. And I think we're going through the same thing now." -Nigel Farage

- » There will be a huge backlash against leftist agendas such as critical race theory.
- » As the left is overplaying their hand that can be good news in the midterms! They are getting this wrong.

"The Labour Party in Britain was basically saying that Britain is a horrible, nasty, ghastly, racist country. We should be ashamed of our history. And working-class families said we're not ashamed of our history. Our grandparents and great grandparents fought in two world wars and we're damn proud of what they did. And we know our history may not be perfect, but compared to most countries in the world, it's pretty blooming good." -Nigel Farage

Remember:

- » We live in a democratic system where people can object, and people can get things to change!
- » The midterms offer the opportunity for a really big comeback!
- » We need people to stand up and do the right thing, regardless of the potential consequences!

Nigel Farage, in his own words.

The reason I stay positive is I achieved my life's dream. I mean, for many, many years, people thought I might become the patron saint of lost causes. But we've got there we've done it. And as I said earlier, we've now got 70 percent approval. I actually think there is great reason to be optimistic. Yes. The world faces great challenges, there is the external challenge of the Chinese Communist Party. But then also in the history of mankind, we take on these great challenges. My optimism is based on this. I think the new left are so out of touch with ordinary people. I think the agenda they're pursuing is so disastrous and so ruinous that I think you reach a point sometimes where worse is better.

About Critical Race Theory: dividing people up in terms of gender, sexuality, I don't believe this is sustainable. I think there is going to be a huge political backlash against it.

About Populism: You know, the Tea Party was a beginning of populism in the US. I was doing this 17 years before the Tea Party. I am the first populist. I can tell you populism has got a lot, lot further to go. So, yes, about these things, I am very optimistic.

- Fight for Freedom! The virus of Marxism comes back once every 25 years or so. We have to keep fighting these battles. Reagan encouraged us:

"Freedom is never more than one generation away from extinction. We didn't pass it to our children in the bloodstream. It must be fought for, protected, and handed on for them to do the same, or one day we will spend our sunset years telling our children and our children's children what it was once like in the United States where men were free." – Ronald Reagan

- 8. Beware of technology and the canceling of people and stay in the fight! Liberty is worth it.

Be concerned about technology and the fact that they're canceling people off of the social media, the fact that they're trying to weaponize and get control of all of our investments.

"There is a fear that I have and I'm optimistic like you, but the fear that I have was the people around Vladimir Lenin also, they overplayed their hand, but they just kept going and they put the world in darkness, half the world in dark for a long time, for a very long period of time."

—Kevin Freeman

- › Good News- We covered this before, but today we still live in a democratic system!
- › We still have the power to object and people can get things to change.
- › We need to act why we can!
- › The Republican party needs to sort things out and has some work to do internally.
- › Remember, the midterms offer the opportunity for a really big comeback.

"Trump would have won the election easily last year if it hadn't been for covid suddenly coming along and then mail out ballots, ballots being sent out indiscriminately to tens of millions of people. Without those things, he would have won. And I think we'll look back in years to come and say that 2016 wasn't the blip, but actually 2020 was the blip of a process. So, I think the realignment of politics that is going on with working people now happy to vote for more conservative ideas, I think that points the way forward."

—Nigel Farage

Why You Should Care:

- » Policies are currently moving back to the days of Obama and globalization.
- » Brexit was said to be impossible, but it happened.
- » Keeping your optimism and standing for Liberty is critical.
- » Do not believe the echo chamber of social media. There is a majority of Americans that believes in Liberty.
- » You can make a difference weaponizing your money in your investing, spending and giving.
- » The left has an army built from the foundation of "education." We need to remain informed so that we can help the next generation fight for freedom!
- » Freedom is never more than one generation from extinction!
- » The failures of the British Labour Party are an example to us as American Conservatives. We can beat the socialist enemy!
- » More people are getting actively involved as they see the realities of the left overplaying their hand.
- » Farage is on an American Comeback tour and is seeing more determination as he travels the country.

Action Steps:

1. Be optimistic. What are you doing to make a difference in the upcoming elections? How can you best leverage how the left is overplaying their hand?
2. Check to see if critical race theory is being taught in your school district. Your taxes could be funding America's demise and a Marxist agenda.
3. Do not be ashamed of America's history. There is a reason that immigrants of all ethnic backgrounds from around the world are coming here. And it is not because we are too racist.
4. Do not listen to the echo chamber but stay focused on the mission, remember President Reagan's challenge on freedom. Fight for it!

5. Weaponize your money? You control your giving, spending, and investing. Nominate your financial advisor to attend our Founders' class coming soon.
- Investing, we suggest you get a like-minded financial advisor. We've done surveys and a clear majority of investors want an advisor who matches with their political and cultural beliefs. Unfortunately, Wall Street is pushing for you to just take what they offer and then sets about to force a leftist agenda on you.
    - o "If your advisor isn't willing to match your investments with your values, send them to us for training and education. If they won't do that, I can promise you that there are lots of other advisors looking for new clients." -Kevin Freeman
6. It is time to fight the economic war we are facing. Nominate your financial advisor at EconomicWarRoom.com/advisor and let them know you think this would be a great opportunity for them. Classes are launching soon, and our list is growing fast.
