

The Fight for Freedom is On! ESG and the Abandonment of the Constitution

Western Civilization is under attack! Now more than ever it is critical we work together to defend life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Your briefing this week includes a conversation with Ken Abramowitz, founder and president of SavetheWest.com. Mr. Abramowitz made it part of his mission to help educate against these western civilization threats.

Ken is a legendary health care analyst. He was repeatedly ranked among the best analysts of any type in America. Ken is determined to use his extensive knowledge of economic and cultural matters to create a website that would help arm lay Westerners with the knowledge, confidence and resources to help preserve our liberty. With expertise in capital markets, he brings a unique understanding to the ESG agenda as well as the other threats facing democracy today.

Mr. Abramowitz joins Kevin Freeman in the Economic War Room® to share what must be done now to defend life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Your Mission: To better understand the forms of warfare against Western Civilization and the hypocrisy of ESG investments.

There are three aspects necessary to save Western Civilization:

1. Economic growth
2. Military strength
3. Maintaining and strengthening our cultural values

All our being attacked!

Ep. 4-148 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Special Report. This includes conversations with Kevin Freeman and Ken Abramowitz

Kenneth Abramowitz is a Managing General Partner and co-founder of NGN Capital, a $450 million worldwide healthcare venture capital fund. He has repeatedly ranked as one of the best analysts of any type in America. With expertise in capital markets, he brings a unique understanding to the ESG agenda as well as the other threats facing democracy today.

“There is a battle between democracies and dictatorship.” –Ken Abramowitz

A WARNING FOR AMERICA - From Savethewest.com

This data is part of a larger research report, “America At The Precipice,” produced independently by SaveTheWest editor Jon Sutz. Learn more about the nature of the war against Western civilization, and how some in the U.S. and W. Europe are aiding our own destruction, in this original SaveTheWest essay.

The Assault on Western civilization

Western civilization – individual rights, free enterprise and limited constitutional government – is under assault, and it is losing the battle, badly. For example, in the U.S. alone:

- › Less than 50% of U.S. adults know the basic purpose of the U.S. Constitution, or can correctly identify even one of their rights under it.
- › 69% believe Marx’s core doctrine, “From each according to his ability, to each according to his needs,” is in the Constitution (or don’t know if it is or isn’t).
- › Only 17% of U.S. college graduates know the difference between the free market and centralized planning.
- › 80% of seniors at America’s most elite colleges and universities cannot pass a basic high school history test, yet all will be able to graduate without having taken a single history class of any kind.
- › 50% of American adults cannot read above the 8th-grade level, and most college students struggle with “complex but common literacy tasks,” such as understanding the point of a newspaper editorial, or comparing the cost-per-ounce of food.

In this vacuum of indoctrinated ignorance, misconceptions and low functional literacy, anti-freedom ideologies are growing faster than everything that is currently being done to oppose them.

1. America's enemies come from multiple avenues; it is a multi-front war.

First, an easy-to-understand color-coded comparison of how societies are organized:

- » There is a battle between democracies and dictatorship.
- » The Yellows: Approximately half the world's population live in a democracy, which on a map Ken color codes Yellow (Yellow represents the sunlight of civilization).
- » The Reds and Greens - Half the world's population live in a dictatorship or an authoritarian government. Communists are color coded red, and Islamist governments are color coded green.
- » Ultimately the reds and greens are trying to impose their will on yellows.

"Since the beginning of mankind, it is about how should societies be organized, Top-Down or Bottom-Up? The authoritarians believe it should be top down. The king, and everyone else is a subject. The bottom-up approach is we the people determine the government. And if we're not happy, we change the government."

-Ken Abramowitz

2. Western Civilization also faces domestic enemies. These are just as dangerous as the enemies overseas!

- » The reds and greens are attacking us both externally and internally.
- » Just because a map says China or Russia doesn't mean that China or Russia stay in those countries.
- » The history of bad guys is they follow good guys wherever they are.
- » The enemies are abroad, but also in America!

We must identify that form and also go after it. So that's why you get the multi-front war, because it's not just the map of China, Russia and Iran, for example. It's also, what are they doing in the US?

"I have a joke about this. You go to the Pentagon, and you meet the biggest general and you say, Mr. General, who are the enemies? And he takes out his binoculars, just pretend. And he says, oh, I see Russian airplanes and I see Chinese missiles and but rest assured, we're going to defend America. And I go, General, turn around. Half of the enemy is in this room. In this building, in the city, in this country. What about them? Oh, I only use binoculars. I only look offshore at the enemies; I don't look at the internal enemies." -Ken Abramowitz

Lessons in History –

As bad as Nazism was, it was popular in American Universities and businesses initially.

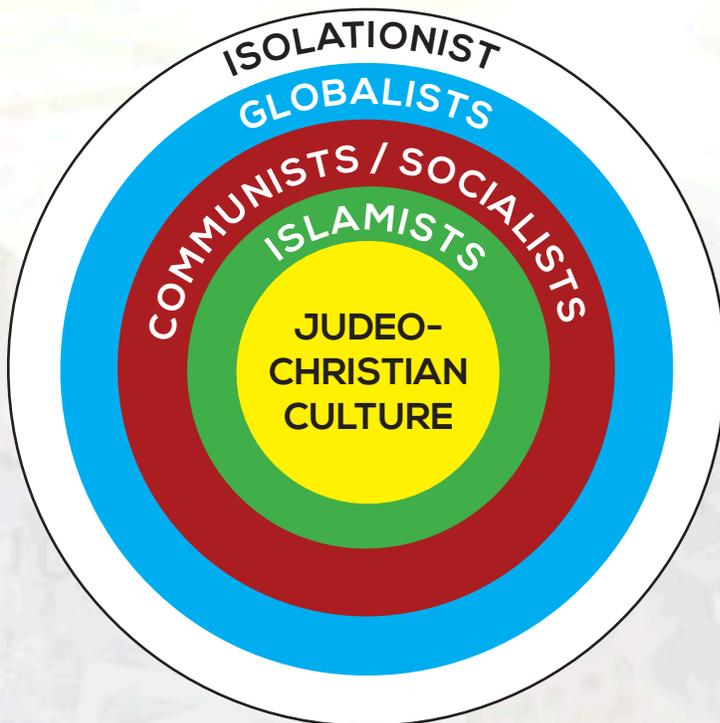

- » Adolf Hitler was very popular at some American universities. They loved and embraced Nazism.
- » Businesses and employers like Henry Ford and Charles Lindbergh believed Hitler's approach was a good thing until they heard and saw differently.

Today

- » We have this problem with American corporations today.
- » A lot of businesses are compromised with woke ESG scores.
- » Many corporations and even our Pentagon has been infiltrated.

3. There are more false narratives. Ken expands on his color-coded approach of the Red, Green, Blue and White. There are four false narratives that surround us.

- The Reds – representing the Communist/Socialist.
- The Greens - representing the Islamist.
- The Blues – The Globalist: representing the traditional color of the UN, and also the corporations fit in this segment.)
- The Whites – The Isolationist – (color based on the surrender flags) – Those that see this topic is not relevant to their daily life.

“Someone sitting in Kansas. They’re trying to get their corn into the marketplace. And I or you or somebody says, ‘oh, Mr. Farmer, what do you think about Iran? You think we should blow up the nuclear sites of Iran?’ And he says, ‘Hey, I have no idea where Iran is. It sounds a little scary. I mean, it could affect the price of oil and I have a tractor and a lot of equipment here. I don’t want the price of oil quadrupling, and I have to get my corn to the market. Please stop bothering me with something that’s so irrelevant. Goodbye.” –Ken Abramowitz

Ken Abramowitz provides a closer look at the Corporations as potential conflict of interest. They are not inherently evil. Corporations are good, but sometimes they do evil things.

Case Study Example – Corporations as Globalist and Capitalist. There is a balance. Ken gives an example of the conflict within.

“Let’s say you are selling sneakers, or you are selling investment services, and there’s an opportunity for you to set up an office in Beijing. There’s a lot of people who want to buy your services. You said you work for Templeton. Is Templeton evil if they set up an office in China to sell investment products to Chinese? No, that’s normal business. I can’t complain about that...Businesses have a right to make money and they have a right to grow.” –Ken Abramowitz

The potential complicating factors.

What happens is if half your revenues come from China, most of your growth comes from China, and the US government wants to impose tariffs on China.

- » You call up your senator or congressman or the president and say, Mr. President, you’re hurting my business in China.
- » So, in other words, you have a conflict of interest.
- » That’s not evil. Businesses have a right to make money and they have a right to grow, and they have a right to complain. This is a complicating factor.

4. The Multi-Front War Multiplied Times the Number of Bad Guys. Mr. Abramowitz identifies six key forms of warfare.

- a. Physical war – Bombs and kinetic war.
- b. Biological and chemical warfare – anything that affects your body.
- c. Cultural war – fighting with words.
- d. Economic war – Money and lawfare.
- e. Cyber war – Internet and online crimes.
- f. Demographic war – This is moving populations around and across borders.

ALERT: What's going on in the southern border is demographic war organized by the government against the American people.

SAVE THE WEST Monitors these six forms of warfare and approximately 10 bad guys.

"We discussed half of them, but there's more bad guys. if you take ten bad guys and you multiply by six forms of warfare. You would get 60-front war that we're contending with. And that's the multi-front war. And the question is, how do you fight a multi-front war? But first, the analysis which we're into now is how do you analyze a 60-front war?" –Ken Abramowitz

5. A closer look at the economic war front and specifically ESG. Ken's Abramowitz shares his insights as an analyst:

"I come from the medical field and so just as a patient, your knee hurts, OK? But your knee is part of the whole body. So, you can't just look at the knee and forget about the rest of the body. There can be other issues involved." –Ken Abramowitz

ESG sounds noble, but is it really?

- » ESG is becoming more notable.
- » On the surface a good environment, social affairs, or governance sounds good.
- » It's in the details that things are dangerous!

The big dispute, the elephant in the room is, "where's the discussion of the Constitution? And the Bill of Rights?" This is the basic intellectual and legal underpinning of our society. And there is no mention of it in ESG.

"I said to myself, well, what if you're running Facebook or Twitter? You just pretend and you have trees, you have a wonderful campus full of trees in your office building that emits no carbon footprint, you have a diverse workforce, and you have good governance over the management team, but you're disobeying the First Amendment and curbing people's free speech illegally, curbing the free speech of Americans and trampling on the Bill of Rights. And I go, wait a minute.....They should get a flunking grade!" –Ken Abramowitz

ATTENTION: Many of those claiming ESG are working against the constitution! What needs to be added to ESG is an alignment with the Constitution.

If you are going to look at ESG, it better include C as well – The Constitution.
Here is a link to Ken Abramowitz's article

There are three important amendments for ESGC

a. First Amendment

"First is freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, freedom of worship. In this example we have BlackRock, who I do not regard as evil, remember, I don't regard corporations as evil, but they have interests and they're big in China. They want to grow in China and China has no regard for our First Amendment. So, under my scoring, Blackrock would be about as low as they can get."

–Ken Abramowitz

b. Second Amendment

Banks that will not loan money to gun store owners and businesses that are closing their gun departments would receive low ESGC scores because under the 2nd amendment we have the right to keep and bear arms.

c. Tenth Amendment

"The Tenth Amendment is states' rights; that issue came up with voting. Georgia made a decision to tighten up its rules because it was so negligent in the past election, so it tightened up some of its rules which a state has the right to do according to the Constitution. Then several corporations said, 'no, states don't have that right. The federal government will determine right or wrong,' which is against the Constitution. So, I said to myself, 'That's an unconstitutional act by this company, obviously acting under the guidance of the illegal federal government.' So, I point that out." -Ken Abramowitz

6. Look at ESG, below the surface it is evil!

"You can see they're operating behind a smokescreen of virtue signaling, pretending that they're good. But if you just dig, you don't have to dig very far under the surface. You just dig a little under the surface. You find out that they're not so good."

-Ken Abramowitz

- » You realize a lot of the companies involved with ESG are making moves that undermine the Constitution.
- » Anyone who objects to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness and anyone who objects to the Constitution should be considered an enemy of the state.

"I'm in favor of a good environment. One of my concerns is the hypocrisy, though. You see big companies like BlackRock that are pounding ESG here at home. And then they're doing business in China, which is obviously a big polluter. They have no social justice. They're literally harvesting organs from minority religious populations and their corporate governance is to the behest of the Communist Party. So, you know, I hate the hypocrisy, but I think your approach is the best approach. Add the C on the end." -Kevin Freeman

How The FANG stocks would rank for ESGC – FAIL!!!

"The FANG stocks, the ones that everybody loves, are like a quarter of all the capitalization of the stock market. These companies would rank in the bottom because they pretend to be good. But they're, I hate to say this, they're acting evil and they're evil because they're attacking the Constitution. And I happen to believe in the Constitution. And I also believe in the Declaration of Independence and life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. So, anyone who objects to life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness and anyone who objects to the Constitution, I regard as an enemy of the state. And so, their ratings would plummet under my ruling, which is probably why no one has called me to reconstitute ESG ratings.” –Ken Abramowitz

7. How to save the United States.

The answer to all this is LSV (Liberty, Security and Values) over ESG. LSV is essentially another way of recognizing “Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness.”

- » The basic guide he uses is life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.
- » Take the current issues in culture and politics and fit them within the construct of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

IMPORTANT: Good guys protect life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, but bad guys destroy these values.

8. The actions of the regressive left.

Progressives are really Regressives!

“If you talk to a progressive, who actually is regressive, they pretend that they’re progressives. They want to take us back to the day when the Kings were in charge and told the subjects what to do. They’re actually regressive, they’re opposed to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. They won’t say that. But just look at their actions.” –Ken Abramowitz

⚠ WARNING: Regressive Liberals are against life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

- » Life – Our government is not protecting lives.

At issue:

Abortion – 40 percent of the 60,000 babies aborted are black.

How come progressives aren’t called racist for supporting abortion?

Illegal Immigration

“Our president’s responsible to protect us from foreign invasion. He’s initiating the foreign invasion and not protecting our allies, but he’s not protecting their lives. 30 percent of the people are getting abused or molested on their way up here, and many of them are sick of it and then they're shipping them around the rest of the country. So here you have our government not dedicated to life anymore." –Ken Abramowitz » Liberty – Remember our Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

At Issue:

Our government has authorized Google, Facebook, Twitter and other media outlets to take away our First Amendment.

Also, they have authorized banks and stores to take away our Second Amendment.

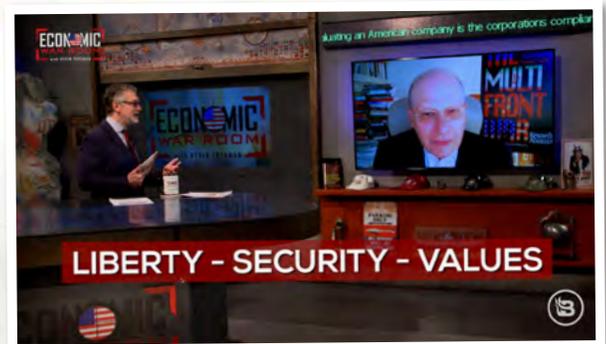

They are also trying to pass laws to limit states rights for electoral reform.

» Pursuit of happiness – Pursuit of property can be considered the same as the pursuit of happiness.

At Issue:

The government wants to raise taxes from people who know how to invest and give it to the government, which doesn't know how to invest.

"I cannot think of a better way to describe the responsibility of the government to its people than to quote from the Declaration of Independence. So basically, I take the issues of the day and I fit it within the construct of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. But it's great. And you'll find that every issue you ever thought of fits within that framework. And by the way, your liberty, security, and values (LSV) are just an alternative way of saying life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. So, we're on the same wavelength here. We're just using slightly different terminology." –Ken Abramowitz

Why You Should Care:

- › There is a war between democracy and dictatorships.
- › Democracy represents we the people. Dictatorships are about kings and their subjects.
- › There is an extensive multifront war being waged against America and democracies.
- › Economic Warfare is a key component of warfare today and your money is being used against you.
- › You can make a difference weaponizing your money in your investing, spending, and giving.
- › America's enemies are not just overseas. They are here in America with the objective of destroying western civilization.
- › Good guys protect life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, but bad guys destroy these values. Our government isn't protecting these values.
- › Highly Scored ESG Corporations are sacrificing the constitution and being rewarded.
- › ESG scores may sound good on the surface, but they can be evil!

"I cannot think of a better way to describe the responsibility of the government to its people than from the Declaration of Independence to protect life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness." -Ken Abramowitz
