AFRICA'S ECONOMY

THE OPPORTUNITY AND WHY IT MATTERS TO AMERICA

Africa's Economy – The Opportunity and Why it Matters to America

Kevin Freeman shares highlights from the Equity for Africa Conference at Liberty University. There is an economic war taking place between socialism, communism, totalitarianism, and liberty. It is not only happening in America but around the world.

This week Economic War Room® takes a closer look at the dynamics in Africa and how it is essential to the future of this world. With its many natural resources, Africa is facing a crossroads, choosing between China's Belt and Road Initiative, or maintaining Liberty through potential western partners. Some partners have African interest at heart, while others are engaged in a battle for economic dominance and power. Great investment opportunities exist in Africa and there is an opportunity for the entire world to do things right for once. Moral democratic capitalism under Judeo-Christian ethics is the answer.

This briefing also provides a reminder of our role in taking a stand against unlawful orders.

WARNING: Religious liberty is under threat! "Never Again?" Well it is happening again and everyone seems to be looking the other way.

Your Mission: To understand the Economic War being waged in Africa and how that impacts America.

The good news? We can be on the lookout for new investment and growth opportunities.

Ep. 4-154 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Special Report. This includes highlights and discussions from the Equity for Africa conference as well as some breakout sessions facilitated by Kevin Freeman.

Kevin Freeman was a host and guest speaker at the Equity for Africa conference at Liberty University. Liberty University is one of the largest Christian universities in the world, is helping to connect African heads of state and officials with American business leaders. During this event African leaders were able to share investment opportunities in the major sectors they have needs.

International connectors include: the world bank, former White House Policy liaisons, USAID, U.S. congressmen, the Heritage Foundation, and the United Nations. The goal was to help facilitate the complex road to capital markets. In addition, U.S. business leaders came together to lend not only their sector expertise but to help connect African leaders with business executives across their vast networks.

The goal of the summit is to create enduring economic growth, enhancing human welfare, within the context of shared faith with friends who hold the same business principles and values.

1. Investing in Africa's freedom! – Insights from former Secretary of State Mike Pompeo.

The Trump administration understood that if they got the business development right, we could create the right ecosystem that allows the people in Africa to reap the benefits of greater freedom.

We understood centrally every human wants the same basic things.

- » They want freedom.
- » They want to be able take care of their family.
- » They understand that there's very little that is more noble than the dignity that comes with the job and opportunity to work and to deliver on behalf of their family and their community.

"The Africans that get the opportunity to do so are obviously better and their nation more prosperous, secure. Greater development improves security for all of us. It is a collective set of security issues that are threatening not only Africa but the northern part of Africa up and through the Middle East. And we've seen this for an awfully long time... For too long, terrorists and thugs have taken advantage of lesser developed countries and used them as safe havens and inflicted enormous harm and destruction of prosperity. So, as we can increase economic growth and the capacity for businesses to provide wealth and opportunity for people all throughout Africa, it will be a better place." -Mike Pompeo

2. Why taking care of your country first is important.

Mike Pompeo shares his insights on why the leaders of every nation should take care of their nation first:

- » Every nation would be better off by focusing on economic growth, wealth and prosperity and opportunities for its people.
- » African countries should be wary of Authoritarian regimes who often use key areas as their safe havens.

Religious Liberty is typically shut down by tyrannical governments.

- » There is an absence of religious freedom caused by tyrannical governments that want to spread their tyranny to the world.
- » Communism and socialism have failed every time they have been tried.
- » Our Judeo-Christian values are what made America successful.
- » We need to make sure that any country not based in a set of principles will end up in the trash heap of history like the Soviet Union did.

ATTENTION: Never Again Is Happening Again.

"We saw what was happening in western China to a population that is 1.4 billion people with an ethnic minority that is being trampled on and worse. And it is a reminder. We all know the history of the world in the 1930s. And I'll bet nearly everyone in this room has repeated the phrase, 'Never again.' That we won't permit this to happen again. It's happening again. And we each have a responsibility. We and the business community, those of us who serve in government, faith leaders across the world need to stand up and at the very least identify this genocide for precisely what it is." -Mike Pompeo

3. Liberia sees political stability - Jewel Taylor, Vice President of Liberia.

- › Liberia's political stability was achieved in 2018.
- › The Liberian government had its first peaceful transfer of democratic power in more than 170 years.
- › What are the benefits of investing in Liberia?
- › The first one is a minimum restriction on the repatriation of profits.

"Liberia has the Liberian dollar and the United States dollar, and whoever comes to invest can repatriate as much as they want without any hassle." –Jewel Taylor

- › There is a low cost of labor.
- › There are abundant resources like gold, diamonds, and coltan (a metallic ore used for electronics).
- › Also, the tourism sector is one of the most beautiful in the world.
- › Liberia has access to regional markets.

4. Africa's population is about to double and critical infrastructure is needed to be self-sustaining. Why? Africa's problem is America's problem.

- › According to the UN by 2100 half of the world's babies will be born in Africa and economic infrastructure needs to be built now.

"In 1960, Africa accounted for 7% of the world's population. By 2018, it was 14.5%. By 2050 it will be 23% if the World Bank and the UN's projections hold. By 2100, half of the new babies will be born in Africa. Imagine the pressure that it can exert of education, infrastructure, deforestation, and climate crisis." –Dr. Yonas Biru

- › We must make sure things are in place so they can be self-sustaining.
- › OPIC (the Overseas Private Investment Corporation) is now DFC (U.S. International Development Finance Corporation). OPIC was limited to $29 billion in lending, but DFC raised that to $60 billion.

- » It also allowed the American government to take an equity stake in a project and bring in private equity.

We need to help countries go from "aid to trade!"

"If we can help a country become self-sustaining and move from aid to trade, they develop an economic engine. This happens because infrastructures are put in there that will invite more private equity that will create the economic base for job development." –Ted Yoho

- » The BUILD Act also authorized the DFC to lend money in the currency of a country, so you don't have to go through the exchange rate.

Why is Africa's development America's problem and the world's problem?

"I wrote a piece, and the title was 'A Marshall Plan for Africa Now or Doom by 2050.' One of the issues I raised was looking at pandemics. If the worst kind of pandemic comes, it's going to cost the developed world very heavily. So, if any kind of pandemic starts in Africa, you will have it in 16 hours. By the way, two months after I wrote that piece, COVID-19 came. They estimated the U.S. alone suffered $16 trillion because of covid." –Dr. Yonas Biru

This is just one reason why Africa's problem today is America's problem!

5. Why ESG is a train wreck waiting to happen and the potential for LSV investments that benefit Africa!

Environmental, Social Justice, and Governance (ESG) – While it may sound good, it is not as it appears.

“Who’s not in favor of supporting the environment? Who doesn’t want social justice? Who doesn’t want good corporate governance? But when you dig into it, you realize that this is an elitist attempt to use catchphrases to aggregate the world’s money and force it to go a certain direction. So, the projects are being financed to support elitist goals and objectives.” –Kevin Freeman

Instead of ESG investments. The NSIC Institute is leading with LSV investing as the alternative. LSV is about weaponizing your investments, giving and spending focused on Liberty, Security and Values.

The Africa Opportunity:

While China may be a great place to invest based on demographics, the Chinese Communist Party is not favorable to investors.

- » The CCP and China do not have a good track record on any of the ESG segments. Yet Blackrock is telling American investors that are standing for ESG and then funneling your investments to China.

But Africa has potential ahead for economic growth picking up some of China’s industry.

- » Regions of Africa are becoming more attractive place for investment because private property rights are becoming more secure, and courts are finally pursuing justice.
- » There is the opportunity for a lot of the lower end industry that has been in China to move into East Africa right now and serve the European market.
- » We see that in some other countries around the world, China’s pricing itself out of some of that. But that has been a gateway for China to industrialize and become a modern power, as was true in much of the rest of East Asia.
- » We see trends that are encouraging toward that happening in Africa, with at least in the next two generations entering first world status and actually having a tremendous future.
- » America should be a part of this growth. While we need some help again on the private property and justice issues identified in Africa, some regions are leading with these improvements.

NOTE: American investors have been a little bit leery of going to Africa and some other places. Yet, there are a lot of incredible opportunities in Africa. There are governance issues in parts of Africa. Africa becomes a much more attractive place for investment to the degree that private property rights are secure, and courts are truly pursuing justice.

ATTENTION:

ESG is a train wreck because it is all socialist and socialist-inspired schemes!

“ESG investing is a pox upon the land. It is a train wreck coming because it is like all socialist and socialist-inspired schemes. It is designed to trick people into giving control to a handful of people to use that power to amass more power. It is not at all, I wish it were, but it is not about advancing the environment or any form of justice. It is about advancing a certain form of governance. They don’t mean corporate governance. They mean their own governance of the world. We see this in the way the Belt and Road Initiative has developed in much of the world. Belt and Road has proven to be what a lot of us were afraid it would be, which is a debt trap. It has become a recolonization of a lot of countries in some very practical ways. One way that we can push back against that and find more opportunity for the countries that have fallen into that trap and the countries that have resisted it, is to direct more free investment capital in the western world toward the countries that felt the need to sign up for Belt and Road.” –Rod Martin

“These are the problems we face globally, and they require solutions where people of goodwill, people of faith, people who are Christian believers, actually apply the principles of scripture and push back against these awful trends.” –Rod Martin

6. Our faith tells us what is wrong with America and that is why our faith is attacked!

It is those with a socialist philosophy that are threatened by faith.

- » Our faith tells us why the socialist trend in America is wrong.
- » We are not only commanded not to steal, but we are also commanded not to think about stealing.
- » Thou shalt not covet.
- » Socialism is an entire socio-economic scheme designed around the systemic institutionalization of covetousness.
- » The more we respect and love one another, as well as treat each other with dignity, the more prosperity and trade is possible because we are not thinking about taking from one another.

“Trade and commerce and capitalism, all this is fundamentally one thing. It’s me trying to figure out how to do well by doing good. I see that you have a need. I try to meet that need. I think about how to meet that need. I put my own money and capital and time into my proposed solution for meeting your need.” –Rod Martin

- » The difference between socialism and capitalism is that where socialism has people thinking about how they can get the government to take from someone else and give it to themselves, capitalism has people thinking about how we can meet the needs of others.

WARNING: BEWARE OF SOCIAL JUSTICE INITIATIVES WITHIN SOME CHURCHES. IT IS IMPORTANT TO UNDERSTAND THEIR REAL MOTIVE.

7. IMPORTANT ALERT- How the Christian church should fight today!

A look at who is sovereign in the US, what our constitution says, and who we submit to. Dave Brat reviews in America’s founding, who is the sovereign?

- » Romans 13 states that we should submit to authorities because they are put there by God.

- » Who is considered sovereign?

The sovereign of America is, We the people. The sovereign is the Church!

“We have been rich and blessed beyond comprehension, but that richness has led us away from the fight. We become very comfortable and complacent and good consumers and we’re worried about ourselves.” –Rod Martin

---

What does this, the sovereign, we the people, really mean?

- » We should start with the fact that we don’t seem to think our faith applies to everything.

“We have to realize that the Creator of the universe actually designed the owner’s manual for absolutely everything. The Bible speaks to all issues, and we are required to do so also. Of course, that includes economics and politics. If God says don’t steal and don’t covet, he’s talking to my government as much as to me because my government isn’t some black box institution somewhere. It’s entirely composed of people.” –Rod Martin

- » During the pandemic, we had people saying that we should submit to our churches being closed because of what some people misunderstand of Romans 13.
  - » If we back up one book before Romans, Peter is telling his government that we should obey God rather than man.
  - » On the topic of socialism and equal outcomes, God has created people with different abilities.
  - » Some people are gifted pianists and others are baseball players.
  - » There are things some of us can do that other people cannot do.
  - » God ordained all of this to work together.
  - » If we just follow God’s rules, everyone can prosper together.
  - » God spoke about money about as much as anything he ever addressed.
  - » The reality right now is that we are facing a war of greed. We are facing an economic war!

“You may not accept an unlawful order. We didn’t have to learn that from Nuremberg. We have that from the scripture. So, again, Christianity teaches us the way that men and women respect one another, give dignity to one another, and should promote prosperity among one another. This is not by taking from someone else, but by lifting all boats.

There are gifts that are unevenly distributed. Every outcome won’t be the same. I turned out to be pretty good at PayPal but am bad at being a concert pianist or a baseball player. I can’t do those things. There are things I can do. Maybe some of you can’t. It doesn’t matter if God has ordained this all to work together. That is, by the way, what we call the body of Christ. That’s the definition of the division of labor. And the division of labor is the foundation of capitalism, which is the foundation of prosperity for everybody in this world. It is not limited to the West, is not limited to East Asia, it is universal. If we just follow God’s rules, everyone can prosper together.” –Rod Martin

Why You Should Care:

- » We can increase economic growth and the capacity for businesses to provide wealth, prosperity, and opportunity for people all throughout Africa.
- » The Chinese Communist Party is trying to move in with their tyrannical regime to create a debt trap for many of these countries.
- » Regions of Africa can be a good investment opportunity as property rights emerge and courts begin pursuing justice.
- » A large population boom in Africa will require capital for them to be self-sustainable.
- » ESG is being used to trick people into giving a small group of people power to obtain more power.
- » Socialism is an entire socio-economic scheme designed around the systemic institutionalization of covetousness.
- » God has ordained all to work together.
- » The sovereign is We the People, the church, not the Government. You may not accept an unlawful order.
- » We all need to work together and lift all boats.
- » If we follow God’s rules, everyone can prosper together.

Action Steps:

1. There may be unique investment opportunities in Africa as countries reinforce private property rights and a fair justice system.
2. Understanding China's true intentions with the Belt and Road Initiative, America and its Western allies should look for the countries that are falling into the China trap and direct more free investment capital to mutually help each other where possible.
3. With population and global demographic shifts, consider and ask your financial advisor if there are potential global investments (including Africa) that make sense for your portfolio.
4. With all that is going on in America against liberty, beware of unlawful orders.
5. Weaponize your money towards principles that support Liberty, Security and Values (LSV). You control your giving, spending, and investing. Nominate your financial advisor to attend our Founders' class coming soon.
  - Investing, we suggest you get a like-minded financial advisor. We've done surveys and a clear majority of investors want an advisor who matches with their political and cultural beliefs. Unfortunately, Wall Street is pushing for you to just take what they offer and then sets about to force a leftist agenda on you.
    - o "If your advisor isn't willing to match your investments with your values, send them to us for training and education. If they won't do that, I can promise you that there are lots of other advisors looking for new clients." Kevin Freeman
6. It is time to fight the economic war we are facing. Nominate your financial advisor at EconomicWarRoom.com/advisor and let them know you think this would be a great opportunity for them. Classes are launching soon, and our list is growing fast.
