

America Needs Fatherly Wisdom

“America is in decline, but this decline is not inevitable. It is a choice made by detached and cynical politicians.” These are Larry Elder’s opening words as he explains why he is running for President in 2024. This great nation has seen many trials, but for the first time, it faces the existential threat of internal decay.

The culture of our great nation has begun to deteriorate from within. The pillars that America was founded upon have been under attack. It is time to protect them and save our nation.

In this briefing we will discuss the following:

- » A Fatherless Generation
- » The Failing Education System
- » Illegal Immigration
- » Debt – US Runaway Spending
- » Crime on the Rise
- » Larry Elder’s Campaign for President

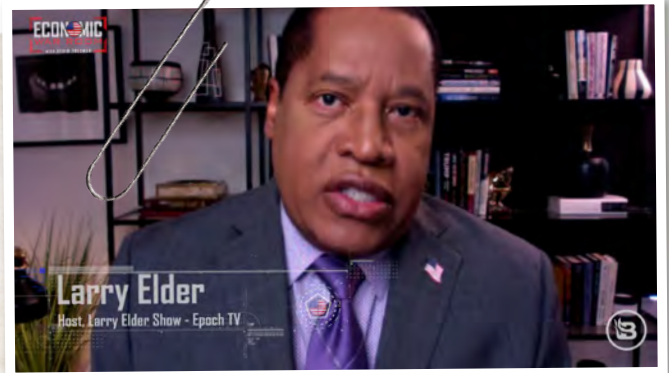

YOUR MISSION: Learn about the causes behind American decline and what can be done to redirect the nation.

⚠ ATTENTION: America is on the decline, but this does not have to be America’s destiny.

Ep. 6-240 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Report. This briefing includes a conversation between Kevin Freeman and Larry Elder. Larry Elder is a friend of the Economic War Room® and a patriot.

Known as The Sage from South Central, Larry Elder is unafraid to take on liberals in the Black Lives Matter movement with common sense. He's also known as America's Truth Detector. Larry is a brilliant thinker and communicator and a New York Times best-selling author of four books, including his latest, "A Lot Like Me: A Father and Son's Journey to Reconciliation". His national TV show, Moral Court, was syndicated across the country and was at one time top rated in New York, Los Angeles, and Chicago. Larry won a Los Angeles Emmy for Best News Special in 1999, and in 2015, he was awarded a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Larry is currently running as a Republican candidate for President in the 2024 election.

1. A Fatherless Generation

The number one issue that has both initiated and accelerated the decline of the United States of America is fatherlessness.

Study after study has shown that children are far more likely to end up with impoverished or even criminal lifestyles if they do not have both parents in the home.

“Obama said a kid raised without a father is five times more likely to be poor and commit crime, nine times more likely to drop out of school, and 20 times more likely to end up in jail. I argue what's happened is because of the welfare state, this is where the economic component comes in, we have incentivized women to marry the government and have incentivized men to abandon their financial and moral responsibility.” –Larry Elder

For some these statistics are offensive, for others, they are proof of a Biblical purpose for marriage that goes beyond one person.

Scripture regularly outlines the importance of both parents in the upbringing of a child. It is clear, the nurturing gifts of a mother are required for the growth of a child. While all people are on a spectrum of personality, there is a biological gift God instilled into women for the rearing of children. There is a deep passion and care, the love of a mother, which is often unconditional. This love provides fertile soil for the emotional growth of a child.

- » The purpose of the father is to inspire identity and instruct children in the ways of maturity.
- » A father provides a sense of stability and safety while also representing our Heavenly Father.
- » This is seen clearly with the naming of Benjamin in Genesis 35, his mother names him Benoni (son of my pain) but Jacob renames him Benjamin (Son of my father's right hand).
- » This small change shaped his entire future, as names were prophetic of the life the individual would live. From Benjamin's lineage the Gospel is brought to Rome by Paul.

Both parents play a vital role in the growth of a child and their formation as an adult. Sadly, America currently ranks highest in the world for fatherless homes. This has massive effects on the children and the culture of the neighborhoods they grow up in. Larry Elder explains that "No decision is more important than the neighborhood and whether or that neighborhood has plenty of two-parent households. The more two-parent households, the better. When you're in a neighborhood where there are a whole bunch of single-parent households, all sorts of bad things flow from that."

WARNING: The rise of fatherlessness has stripped a generation of the father's role in identity and character formation.

- » Worst of all, the drastic decline in two parent homes was no accident. As Larry Elder explains "When Lyndon Johnson launched his war on poverty, he literally sent social workers knocking on doors, door to door, to apprise women of the availability of welfare, provided there, was no man in the house."

- » Since Lyndon B. Johnson's push for a welfare state in the mid-1960s, the number of single parent households has risen from under three million to over ten million in 2020.
- » Thankfully, recent pushes to educate people on the negative effects of single-parent situations have led to a decrease since the peak in 2010 when over eleven million households in the US were single-parent.

While the policy has been changed, the current welfare system still provides more money to single-parent homes. While the intention is to provide a single parent with the extra support they need, it has also motivated parents to separate from one another as the single parent home would receive more welfare money.

Attention: The welfare system has incentivized choices that have negative long-term effects on America's youth.

2. The Failing Education System

The issue of fatherlessness has infected more than just family life and neighborhood culture. The US education system has failed rapidly as student scores dip below those of other nations.

“Almost half of all kids in our schools are neither math nor reading proficient. Eighty five percent of black kids, these are 13-year-olds, 8th graders, are neither math nor reading proficient. 85%! Half of them don't even hit basic math, basic reading.” –Larry Elder

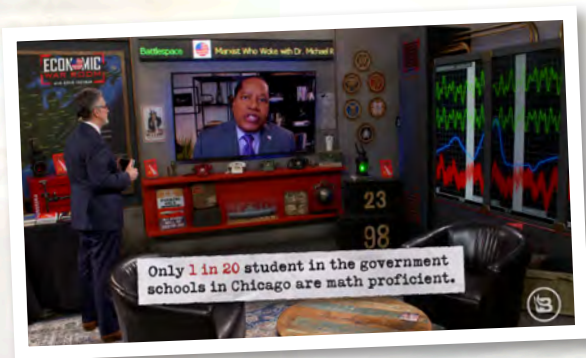

The purpose of education is to equip children with the knowledge and skills they need to succeed in life. First among these is reading comprehension as it is the foundation for success in other subjects. American children are being robbed of their potential by a failed system that does not provide the necessary programs or resources to effectively equip students for success.

One major cause is the number of schools that are government funded and controlled. Larry Elder explains that “the archdiocese here in L.A. is educating kids at a fraction of the cost that the government schools are.” He continues to explain that this is “largely because they have fewer bureaucrats. In the Los Angeles Unified School District, there’s about one bureaucrat for every one teacher.” In stark contrast, the archdiocese has about seven teachers for every one bureaucrat. So, that’s where the money is going. It’s being misspent.”

The bureaucracy of government always leads to increased spending that has little to no positive impact on students.

Over the last few years private schools have seen a massive influx of applicants, especially during COVID when many government schools were closed or online-only. Parents have seen that private schools tend to provide a better education while keeping parents more involved in the education process than their government-run counterparts.

“Only 1 in 20 students in the government schools in Chicago are math proficient, 1 in 20. It’s a recipe for disaster... Nationwide, around 10% of us have our kids in private school.... 49% percent of Philadelphia public school teachers with school-aged kids put their own kids in private schools, 39% in Chicago. The people who know the school system the best, the teachers, aren’t putting their own kids in it.” –Larry Elder

The failure of the education system is evident when the educators themselves refuse to participate in it.

- » Not all school systems are the same. The public schools in regions plagued with fatherlessness tend to be the ones with the lowest scores.
- » Students struggling with identity and character development will naturally struggle to believe in themselves.

- » Without the voice of a father encouraging them to succeed and achieve greatness through hard work and dedication, students are limited in their own perceptions of what is possible.
- » Many of these students do not know what they are capable of because there are not enough voices encouraging them to find out.

WARNING: As America's education system fails, future generations will be ill-prepared to succeed in a competitive world economy.

3. Illegal Immigration

Another major player in the decline of America is illegal immigration, which strips lower-income citizens of many opportunities and burdens every taxpayer benefit in society. Let's be clear. Immigration based on our laws is wonderful. It adds to American diversity. But the notion of moderating the flow of immigrants in line with a healthy society did not used to be controversial. Such policy was supported by unions, Democrats, and Republicans. Unfortunately, this Administration is ignoring any form of reasonable constraints to our peril.

“The burden on hospitals, the burden on schools, particularly in border states, can't be overstated. So, it's a massive, massive, massive problem that I believe the Democrats have made worse on purpose.” –Larry Elder

According to Peter Kasinow, a member of civil rights commission, a million more black men would have jobs if it were not for illegal immigration. The presence of illegal labor puts about $1,800 downward pressure on their wages, costing the country and the black economy almost $100 billion every single year.

WARNING: Illegal immigration poses a major security risk while also threatening the livelihoods of many Americans. Legal immigration is good and should be encouraged. Illegal immigration is a serious problem.

Those who live in border states know far too well the threat illegal immigration poses on their way of life.

- » The negative impact on employment and income is only the beginning.
- » Schools, hospitals, and other taxpayer services are overwhelmed by the needs of illegal immigrants who do not provide funds to the tax pool.
- » Cartels and gangs trade illegal substances across the border.
- » The Fentanyl crisis is fueled by this drug trafficking.
- » Human trafficking and sexual abuse are regularly reported.

Meanwhile, politicians in D.C. have pushed legislation and policy that incentivizes this criminal activity.

Since the Biden administration has been in office, the number of illegal aliens that have entered the US has reached at least 5 million. There is no way to know who they are or where they are. Some of those who have been caught turned out to be on terror watch list. This is a major threat to national security.

On top of all the negative impacts on the way of life of law-abiding citizens, it is costing border states Billions of dollars a year. George Skelton estimated that it would cost California $25 Billion per year to cover all the services that are used by illegal immigrants. That $25 Billion comes straight out of taxpayer's wallets. Since Skelton's estimation, the costs have only gone up as illegal immigration has increased rapidly under the Biden administration.

Attention: Illegal immigration is destroying the American way of life and stripping Americans of their hard-earned income.

4. Debt – US Runaway Spending

To make things worse, the value of the US dollar has declined with inflation making life even harder for those who were already struggling with these other issues. At the same time, taxes have only increased. In 1900 the government took less than 9% across the board from the American people. This includes Federal, State, and Local taxes. Today, the government taxes about 32% on average as the Federal, State, and Local governments around the nation have increased taxes and spending.

The problem is not just the increase in taxes, it's the hopeless overspending and misspending of Government funds.

“That is why we have this anemic growth rate, 2%, 3%. We brag now when it's 3%. We used to have 5 and 6% growth before the income tax and before government got as large as it is.” –Larry Elder

The US government has grown substantially since the early 1900's as more and more agencies are formed to create more regulation, more red tape, and spend more taxpayer money.

Agencies like the FBI, ATF, CIA, and IRS have gained more power over the last few decades, each consuming millions or even billions of taxpayer dollars each year. Anyone with a background in any form of business understands that increased spending requires increased income... the problem with government is they do this through taxes. At the same time, each department receives a budget. If they spend the whole budget, they can request to increase the budget in the following year, if they do not spend it all, they have no grounds to increase it. This incentivizes these agencies to spend more money, not to be more economically efficient.

The current prediction from the Congressional Budget Office is for the US government to spend $6.2 Trillion in 2023 alone.

Attention: The US Government has become overgrown and is spending taxpayer money at an unsustainable rate.

5. Crime on the Rise

While the government continues to grow and spend money without restraint, crime rates across the nation are spiking. The agencies who are responsible for policing these issues are either reluctant, or have their hands tied.

- » The Border Patrol has been limited in its capacity to prevent illegal immigration under the Biden Administration and is thus unable to prevent many of the crimes from happening.
- » The ATF is more concerned with pushing gun control agendas than cracking down on the black market that runs rampant in many major cities like Los Angeles or Chicago.
- » The DEA is overwhelmed with the Fentanyl crisis and is unable to make any real impact as more floods across the border each day than they could possibly trace.
- » Police in many major cities, like Chicago, saw budget cuts and were restricted from operating in certain parts of their cities because of the BLM riots. They are now unable to properly police these neighborhoods and have no choice but to step back and watch the gangs gain more control.

“Crime is up here in L.A., violent crime up in L.A., violent crime up in Chicago, it’s up in New York. Part of it is because of the lack of fathers in the home. Part of it is the attack on the police, calling they’re systemically racist. They’re pulling back. It’s called the George Floyd effect or the Ferguson effect. Bad guys know it. Crime goes up and the very people who are hurt the most are the very black and brown people that people like Black Lives Matter purport to care about.” –Larry Elder

There are many great agents and officers who are desperate to help Americans and to see America become great again, however, the Biden Administration and their local government lackeys seem to be doing whatever they can to keep crime on the front page.

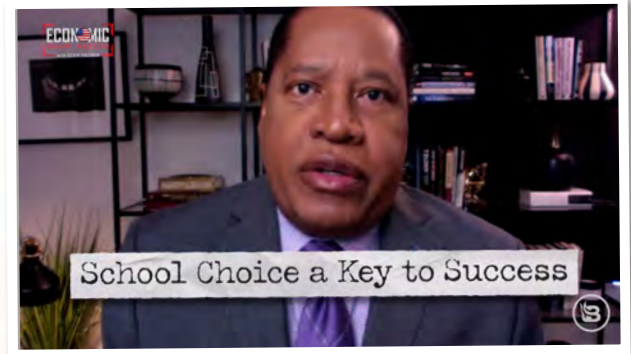

6. Larry Elder For President

In late April, Larry Elder announced he would be running for President of the United States. His goal? To provide America with a stark contrast to the Biden experience.

- A. Larry’s solution for the Fatherlessness problem is to inspire American people to shift their culture and take responsibility for their lives and the lives of their children. As he fondly remembers his father saying “No matter how hard you work, how good you are, bad things are going to happen. How you deal with those bad things will tell your mother and me if we raised a man.” It is this culture shift that will save America.

- B. To reverse the decline of the American education system, Larry wants to create school choice. The data shows that where school choice is implemented students have a higher success rate. As Larry says “The money should follow the child rather than the other way around. Let the parents control what school the kid goes to.”

- C. The weak border policies of the Biden administration can easily be replaced with the Trump-era policies, and we can finish the wall to prevent illegal immigration and ensure safety and better opportunities for the American citizens living in border states. According to Larry Elder, we had the most secure border in our history because of Donald Trump. Joe Biden and the Democrats reversed his policies.
- D. To scale down on Government spending Larry wants to add an amendment to the constitution that “limits spending to a certain percentage of our GDP, with exceptions for war and for natural disaster.” This would inspire economic growth as the government could only spend more if they got the American economy growing. As GDP grows so can the Government budgets.
- E. To reverse the rising crime rates Larry intends to support Police and end the lie that Police are systemically racist. To defeat crime, Police need to be empowered and the judicial system needs to properly punish criminals so they cannot commit the same offenses again.

There are many problems plaguing our nation but together we can work to reduce their impact and even solve them. Larry Elder is running for President. He understands these problems and he believes he can lead the charge. We need candidates to tackle the tough issues as Larry Elder was willing to do in the Economic War Room®.
