

The Electric Vehicle Debacle

Electric Vehicles gained public fame when Elon Musk and Tesla released their Roadster in the 2010s, Now the conversation has shifted from excitement for new technologies, to fear and necessity. The globalist elites have used their fabricated “climate crisis” to push their 2030 electric vehicle mandates through leftist organizations and governing bodies. This fearmongering is all about control.

In this briefing we will discuss the following:

- » WEF’s 2030 Plan
- » The Electric Vehicle Debacle
- » Understanding the Mandate Threat
- » Five Steps for Fighting Back

YOUR MISSION: Understand the threat Electric Vehicle mandates pose to American liberty and national security, then learn how to fight back!

 ATTENTION: Electric Vehicle mandates are part of the 2030 globalist plan to strip you of your liberty.

Ep. 7-272 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Report. This briefing is an exclusive teaching by Kevin Freeman and includes a study on the tyrannical push for electric vehicles.

1. WEF's 2030 Plan

The economic war we face today is one of intelligent design. The existential threat to liberty posed by both foreign and domestic enemies did not form out of nothing, as many would like to believe.

The World Economic Forum (WEF) has been working behind the scenes to plan and orchestrate subversive agendas to tear down Western civilization to bring rise to a new one-world government.

“The World Economic Forum has made some startling predictions about the year 2030. And you know, that’s now just about six years away. They said you will own nothing and be happy. We’ll eat less meat and America will no longer be a superpower, just another nation among many. And transhumanism: your vital organs will be made on a 3D printer. It all sounds science fiction, or maybe dystopian. No one I know wants that future. Maybe it’ll never happen. Except it is happening all around us. And like a frog in a kettle, everything is getting warmer, and the speed of change is lulling us to sleep.” –Kevin Freeman

Their current plan is not even a secret anymore, they publicly stated their intentions. The world, by their design, will be a Satanic crossbreeding of dystopian societies from science fiction.

This has been happening slowly behind the scenes for decades but now they have gone public, and many people are supporting them. They have engineered public opinion by slowly injecting the people with small doses. Like lab rats, they are testing their new drug to see how effective it is at silencing the lambs.

The next step in this process is the limitation of consumer power.

The brilliance of capitalism lies in the fact that it empowers consumers as their purchasing choices provide directions for companies. If companies lose favor with consumers, they lose customers and money. The key to this process is consumer choice.

Boycotts are exceptionally hard and ineffectual if the product or company has no obvious and affordable alternatives.

“In 2030 new gasoline-powered cars will not be available for sale in many states. Is that because electric vehicles are better for the environment? Superior modes of transportation, more fun to drive, less costly to own? If that were true, why do they need mandates to force us to use them? Now I get it. Who doesn't want a Tesla? I want the choice to own one for sure. And Tesla, being free market competition, has greatly expanded automobile choice, brought innovation, and improved the market overall. But that's the old way where you as a consumer have a choice. The new model is mandates... They are telling us that we no longer can own gasoline-powered cars, regardless of what we want... Their motives are obvious to anyone who looks carefully... This is a power play, pure and simple. To herd us like sheep into the New World Order.” –Kevin Freeman

This may not seem like a massive threat at first, but in the big picture, this may be one of the most dangerous policies being pushed by globalist elites.

 Attention: The WEF and other globalist elites are working to destroy liberty and the next step is to remove consumer choice and gas-powered cars.

2. The Electric Vehicle Debacle

The goal of the globalist elites is not simply to provide electric vehicles as a good alternative. It is to eradicate the use of gasoline-powered cars completely.

The claim is that this would have a profound impact on the “climate crisis” which in many ways is a hoax, as shown in episode 220.

In reality, electric vehicles are less reliable, more expensive, easier to control, and awful for the environment.

According to a report from the Edison Electric Institute titled “Overcharged Expectations: Unmasking the True Costs of Electric Vehicles,” EV advocates claim “that the cost of electricity for EV owners is equal to $1.21 per gallon of gasoline but the cost of charging equipment and charging losses averaged out over ten years and 120,000 miles is $1.38 per gallon equivalent on top of that... Adding the cost of the subsidies to the true cost of fueling an EV would equate to an EV owner paying $17.33 per gallon of gasoline.”

“And these estimates do not include the hundreds of billions more in subsidies in the Inflation Reduction Act from 2022 for various aspects of the EV supply chain, particularly for battery manufacturing. It is not an overstatement to say that the federal government is subsidizing EVs to a greater degree than even wind and solar electricity generation and embarking on an unprecedented endeavor to remake the entire American auto industry... The Ford Motor Company is losing over $70,000 on each EV it currently sells. EV enthusiasts are holding out for breakthroughs in battery technology, batteries being the main factor in the high cost of EVs to reduce prices and make EVs more widespread. But advances in battery technology are measured not in months but in decades, and the downward trend of lithium-ion battery costs over the past decade has largely ended.” That’s from the International Energy Agency.” –Kevin Freeman

The Federal government has been acting as a globalist puppet, serving the wishes of the elites.

Removing the choice of gas-powered cars will cripple the American economy and strip the American people of wealth. They may advertise lower prices, but government subsidies mean that you are either paying for those costs through taxes or inflation.

Here are a few headlines which, when pieced together, reveal how bad this already is.

“A new law supercharged electric vehicle manufacturing, but not sales.”

- New York Times, November 8th, 2023

“New York turns back to diesel snowplows and leaves electric vehicles behind.” -Washington Examiner, November 10th, 2023.

“Auto giant recalls almost 1.9 million vehicles to fix batteries.” - WorldNetDaily, November 2nd, 2023.

“Brace for the wind and electric vehicle bailouts.”
Wall Street Journal, October 29th

“Automotive Drive GM abandons plans to build 400,000 EVs by mid-2024.”
-October 24th 2023

It is clear, electric vehicles are not affordable and the technology needed for them to be effective and affordable before 2030 is nowhere near ready.

“When you consider electric vehicles, there are three main points. One, people don’t want to be forced into electric cars. Two, the government is doing it anyway using your money. Three, this will be an economic and climate disaster. Batteries alone are a climate disaster, but the impact of electricity needs cannot be ignored either. And wind and solar can’t meet existing power grid needs. What if we made all cars electric? There’s no way the grid could keep up. There will be power outages, the end of society, grid down stuff, you know, one second after, and lights out. Kind of bad deals. Can these lawmakers and regulators be that stupid? Some are. But not everyone.”

–Kevin Freeman

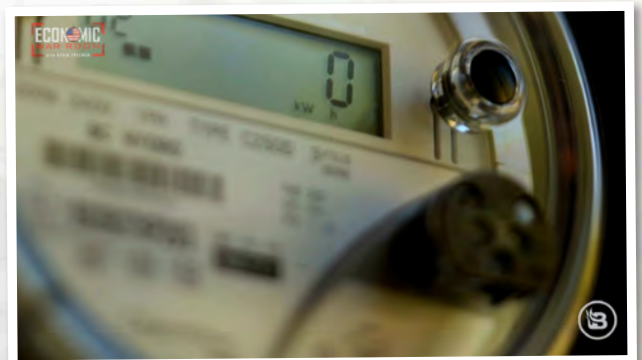

The EV truth is that they serve a purpose, but it is not one that has your best interests in mind.

Electric Vehicles require so much lithium and cobalt in their production that the climate pollution in those two metals alone outweighs the benefits of the EV. The difference is that those mines are in China and African nations, so the pollution is not seen by the Western world.

On top of these metals, electric cars require... electricity. Who could have known? The amount of electricity required to power the electric vehicles required to replace gas-powered cars is astronomical.

The current power grid could not handle it, and we have made almost no effort to prepare the power grid. The results of this shift without the grid for it would be catastrophic.

 Attention: Electric Vehicles are not what they have been promised to be. They are a genuine threat to the liberty and security of the American people.

3. Understanding The Mandate Threat

With it being so obvious that electric vehicles are not an effective alternative to gas cars, why are they mandating them?

“Let’s look at who wins from this. There are three big winners. One, leftist progressives who get total control. If you have an electric vehicle, they can control you. Two is China, where they make a lot of the components that go into electric vehicles. And, the unholy alliance between the first two and the third group, which is those who wish to see us go back to the Stone Ages and love Mother Earth and all of the crazy environmentalists that really, really wish that we weren’t an advanced society at all.” –Kevin Freeman

The first of the three groups that benefit from this are leftist elites, the ones buying and building oceanfront mansions while preaching that climate change will raise sea levels.

Their goal is to control people, and they know that electric vehicles can be more easily controlled. They can shut off the electricity to your home or block your car from accessing charging stations. They could even use your car’s computer to shut it down or drive you somewhere else.

“Let’s start with the ability to control you. Gas-powered cars are liberty. They’re the ability to get in your car, and you can drive hundreds of miles before you need gas. And then you can stop and get gas at any number of roadside stations, pay for it with cash, and keep driving. The infrastructure is already in place. You can go wherever you want. We have an interstate highway system. It takes you five minutes to fuel up and you can drive 300 miles on it. An electric vehicle, (that’s really a computer on wheels), has someone else owning the operating system, which means they can limit your driving. A lot of people are worried about kill switches on cars. You don’t need a kill switch on an electric car. All you need is access to the software. Think about this. When they put smart meters on your home, they started to tell you when you needed to dim the lights and not to run the air conditioning when it’s hot. And they can monitor everything you do in the house. Now you think the people that wanted to put smart meters on your home are going to allow you to charge your cars whenever you want to? It’s the ultimate kill switch.” –Kevin Freeman

The second group is China. The Chinese Communist Party (CCP) controls all Chinese businesses. It is Chinese businesses that are producing the raw materials in China and Africa, and manufacturing those materials into parts, for electric vehicles.

reinvested into Chinese Military projects and technologies. This is by definition, funding the enemy. The technology is also hackable which gives China another huge advantage.

The CCP is directly funded by the EV market. Much of that money will be

The third group that could benefit is the stone-age hippie Climate Cults. These are people who genuinely believe life would be better without any form of modern civilization. Well, if they really believed it, they could become Amish, but they don't believe that would be enough. The whole world must submit to that way of life for them to be happy.

These groups can be boiled down into three more general categories.

1. Those who want profit.

“They have no problem in profiting now, but they want to force behavior so they can increase their profits.” –Kevin Freeman

2. Those who intend to harm us.

“...Thanos style, from the old Marvel movies, who wanted to reduce the population by half. So, they'd be happy to tear down the electric grid, crash the system, etc. You know, China and the Communist Party in China... they want to do both.”

–Kevin Freeman

3. Useful idiots

“These are the true believers in the Green New Deal who seem to think that your drive to pick up your kids in a Chevy Tahoe is somehow going to turn into a monster and come and strangle them in their sleep in a few weeks. This is their religion, and some of them can’t even be talked out of it with reason or facts. And if you try, they’ll see a need to eliminate you” –Kevin Freeman

Attention: There are a few groups that could benefit from the EV mandates, and they are actively pushing for these restrictive, dangerous policies.

4. Five Steps for Fighting Back

Understanding who could benefit from the EV mandates and what their motives might be provides the insight necessary to inspire people to action, while also providing some targets for fighting back.

Step 1:

Get the distorting, hypocritical incentives out of the way so people can see the true costs of EVs. We know from the Texas Public Policy Foundation’s report that the minimum cost of an EV is equivalent to $17.33 per gallon and it is likely more.

Step 2:

Eliminate the mandates and let consumers decide what cars they would like to drive. Consumer choice is the bedrock of a properly functioning economy.

Step 3:

If there were to be a regulation, it would make more sense to limit electric vehicle production until we have sufficient power supply on the electric grid. We should regulate in the opposite direction to protect American infrastructure and encourage power grid expansion and upgrades.

Step 4:

Develop a proper education program on the true costs of electric vehicles. It might not be possible to sway all of the useful idiots, but many might be horrified to hear the actual cost to the environment from extracting lithium and cobalt, or that they could get stranded when the battery fails, and they have to pay a $25,000 repair bill.

Step 5:

Weaponize your money for this fight. We're already seeing automakers struggling to produce EVs in a cost-effective manner, even with government subsidies. You can weaponize your spending and your investing in this fight for liberty.

Attention: We must fight back against the tyrannical 2030 Electric Vehicle agenda by removing incentives and mandates, regulating to protect and expand the power grid, educating people on the risks and costs of EV, and weaponizing our money in this economic war.
