

The Rise of Woke Corp.

If you take the American Citizenship test today, one of the questions asks about the economic system in place in the US. The answer they are looking for is free-market capitalism. For most of American history, this was true and it is one of the key factors that made America the economic powerhouse that propelled the nation into the position of world superpower. However, Wokeism has found its way into corporate America and has allowed tyranny to make its way into American culture.

As this dangerous enemy of liberty seeks to destroy our great nation, patriots are rising up to fight back. Woke companies have been met with well-organized consumer boycotts that lead to massive stock hits. The American people do not want Woke and they are ready to win this culture war and take back the nation.

In this briefing we will discuss the following:

- » Woke Corporatism
- » America's Corporate Monarchy
- » Fighting Back – NSIC & Proxy Navigator

YOUR MISSION: Understand how Woke Corporatism came to be in the US and what can be done to restore our nation and the free-market system that made America great.

 ATTENTION: American patriots are fighting back against the push for Woke policies in corporate America.

Ep. 7-274 (OSINT) Open-Sourced Intelligence Report. This briefing includes a conversation between Kevin Freeman and Scott Shepard. Scott is a friend of the Economic War Room® and an American Patriot.

Scott Shepard is a fellow at the National Center as well as the director of the National Center's Free Enterprise Project, which is the original and premier opponent of the woke takeover of American corporate life. Scott has taught at law schools including the Wake Forest School of Law in North Carolina and the Willamette University College of Law in Oregon. He is the author of the legal textbook Wills, Trusts and Estates in Context. He previously served as a policy director with the Yankee Institute in Connecticut and the manager of the Water Law Project at the Pacific Legal Foundation. He also has experience in government and private practice.

1. Woke Corporatism

Nobody can deny that America currently faces a massive culture war, the question is why?

Many of the major topics are not topics the American people suddenly decided they wanted to argue about. These are topics generated by the global elites who intend to destroy the fabric of our culture and the unity that empowers the masses against the elites.

“From the inception of the show five years ago, we’ve warned about domestic economic warfare. American corporations are used as pawns for global elitist goals like ESG... We’ve talked about Blackrock, Vanguard, and State Street. They’ve since become somewhat household names. We’ve talked about the World Economic Forum... the push for all-electric vehicles and the banning of gas-powered stoves. Literally, this is according to plan. I wrote a whole book on this. It is about controlling you economically, using laws and regulations, and things like that. These plans accelerated with Covid and the power that was assumed via draconian lockdowns, mask mandates, and vaccine passports. Unless you comply, you lose your job, you lose your freedom. This is economic warfare, pure and simple. They’ve been promoting ESG, environment, social, governance. All sounds good, but it's really gender quotas, equity, hypocritical energy policies. You know, from the people that fly private jets around the world, private jets for them, rations for you." –Kevin Freeman

Every aspect of life today is by design. It is no secret that Woke policies are being pushed by politicians, especially on the far left. However, the surprise for many Americans was the rise of Woke corporations.

Woke and Corporate America seemed like polar opposites, but with the rise of corporatism (when corporations are controlled by or control political parties or movements) they have become intertwined.

Dangerously, the corporatism candle is being burnt from both ends as governmental bodies have controlled social media companies to sway elections, while major corporations have swayed elections and legislative decisions through lobbying.

"The free enterprise project was set up because we were one of the first organizations to realize that, even by 2007... corporations had started to move left, largely because left-wing troublemakers and shareholder activists had pushed them to the left. And so corporate executives just sort of agreed to small things that turned into big things, that turned into fully dedicated left-wing departments in their corporations. An equity department, diversity department. That's just about introducing equity-based discrimination. A sustainability department is just about shifting that corporation from affordable, reliable energy to unaffordable, unreliable energy that's still not clean or good for the environment but satisfies the goals of control." –Scott Shepard

This shift has made America's corporations less productive, less profitable, and more dependent on energy sources that benefit China and other competitor nations instead of on American energy.

The shift became recognizable in the late 2000s but the plan has been in motion since the 1950s.

This began with the socialist movements in American universities and the development of more woke education materials. It started slowly but began to ramp up speed until 2020 when it seemed to reach terminal velocity.

⚠ Attention: American culture has been in a free fall as a heavily indoctrinated generation worships at the altar of woke corporatism and the elites continue to gain more power.

2. America's Corporate Monarchy

Free enterprise flourishes when businesses are not controlled by the state and do not get involved in controlling the state. This concept has sadly been lost by much of corporate America.

Instead, America faces a Corporate Monarchy where a small group of royal families control every other company and even sway public opinion and federal or state legislation

“Most American investments are handled by three investment houses Blackrock, State Street, and Vanguard... between them they control $20 trillion of Americans' assets. Now before the rise of mutual funds and then ETFs, most shareholders didn't really vote their proxy votes. They didn't take advantage of the power of their ownership. Because of course, when you own a share in a company, you are a fractional owner of that company and the executives and directors work for you. They don't work for themselves... Well, about a decade ago, it dawned on Larry Fink, the CEO of Blackrock, and somewhat earlier, Ron O'Hanley, the CEO of State Street, and the folks at the top of Vanguard, that they could have immense personal power if they started using other people's assets... they could start using the power of our investment to force corporations to do their personal policy preferences.” –Scott Shepard

Larry Fink has even gone so far as to brag about forcing behaviors at other corporations.

As Scott Shepard explains, “He forces equity-based discrimination, which means unconstitutional and discrimination against the non-diverse, so illegal discrimination against white people, men, straight people, and the religious.”

If that was not enough, “he also pushes a net zero by 2035 or 2050” which is complete nonsense and would destroy life as we know it.

“The purpose of corporations is to allow everybody to be able to be fractional owners of giant companies and make the same kind of money that the big guys do. But in order for that to work, there has to be absolute political neutrality in corporations. The only things that they can get involved in for politics are things that will enhance the value for the baseline shareholder, which is to say they can get involved in politics to keep their taxes low. They can get involved in politics to keep owners’ regulations away from them. They can’t get into politics either to support or oppose abortion. That’s just nothing to do with a corporation.” –Scott Shepard

Attention: A return to free enterprise is essential for the survival of our great nation and the liberty of the American people.

3. Fighting Back – NSIC & Proxy Navigator

The Corporate Monarchy of the 21st century must be toppled and the power returned to the people.

American patriots don’t want to see their money invested into foreign threats like China, or domestic threats like the Woke agenda.

“China is going to do what China does. And it’s never going to be to our long-term benefit. And we’ve made some value in the trading arrangement. But then we find out that MSCI indexes and BlackRock’s funds, for instance, support companies that literally make the technology for the Chinese military that makes the nukes that are aimed at our houses.” –Scott Shepard

This investment into Chinese military technology firms is disastrous and akin to treason. In episode 237, Kevin explains the similarities to American investment in Nazi Germany before World War II.

America must divest from China, and the investments of Patriotic Americans must be used defend and support their personal values, not to push Woke nonsense.

“We’ve started the NSIC Institute, where we train financial advisors using the continuing education requirement process where advisors can get continuing education, and it won’t be woke nonsense. It will be how to preserve liberty, security, and values, which is what most investors want. They don’t want this ESG nonsense. When we’ve done the polls, they say, ‘I want things that promote my family, support my country, support my liberty, provide for my future.’ I mean, these are the things they want good returns that are in line with their values.” –Kevin Freeman

The National Security Investment Consultant (NSIC) Institute was founded to educate financial advisors and equip them to better serve their clients by ensuring investments support the Liberty, Security, and Values of the client.

However, proxy voting can be much more complicated and the Corporate Monarchy has built a powerful system for maintaining their control. To overcome this behemoth, patriots must work together.

The National Center’s Free Enterprise Project has recently released a new app that can equip financial advisors and individual investors with the necessary tools to enter into the proxy vote landscape and be effective.

“The Free Enterprise Project has put together a new app. It’s called Proxy Navigator... we’ve teamed up with an organization called Iconic so that if you download this app and you go through a fairly simple process, you can make sure that... your proxy votes will be voted in accordance with the National Center’s recommendations. If you want to see past recommendations, we’ve written a publication about that each year. But you can vote according to your right of center interest now using the Proxy Navigator app. Make sure to do that. Make sure to be in touch with corporations. Make sure if you use an investment advisor, make sure that investment advisor knows about this extra opportunity to vote your values at corporations.” –Scott Shepard

This technology is a game changer as the National Center and The Free Enterprise Project's team will provide you with their research and analysis of the proxy votes you are able to participate in.

For many Americans, time is of the essence and reading hundreds of pages for proxy votes may not be a priority. The Corporate Monarchy has been taking advantage of this and abusing the American people.

The Proxy Navigator app simplifies the process and returns the power to the people.

Attention: Investors and financial advisors can use the Proxy Navigator app to make a more informed decision in their proxy votes.
