

The Great Campaign: A Quest for Humanity and Love

In an era marked by global uncertainties and ideologically driven agendas, it is critical that American patriots remain well-informed, active participants in safeguarding our core values and freedoms. Powerful enemies of liberty, and their heinous plans for global control, have been brought to light over the last few years. The Great Reset threatens to strip the people of their freedoms, allowing a small group of elites to manage and control everything.

This is not simply a physical threat, but a spiritual one. The doctrines and ideologies of the World Economic Forum are anti-human and directly oppose the Biblical worldview that shaped Western civilization and inspired the founders of our nation to ensure that liberty would be preserved for all.

In this briefing we will discuss the following:

- » The True Nature of the Great Reset
- » The Five Ideologies of Evil
- » The Five Core Moral Principles - The Great Campaign Against the Great Reset

YOUR MISSION: Learn about the underlying ideologies of the Great Reset and how to uphold Christian values, promote human dignity, and protect liberty against this encroaching threat.

ATTENTION: The Great Reset is the plot of globalist elites to crush humanity and enslave people under a one-world system where the elites own and rule everything and everyone.

WHY YOU SHOULD CARE

- » The World Economic Forum feigns compassion to garner support for the Great Reset which better resembles an evil plot to destroy liberty and enslave the masses.
- » There are five evil ideologies that fuel the Great Reset and threaten to topple Western Civilization.
- » People are suffering at the hands of the globalist elites and we must help them.
- » The five Core Moral Principles outlined by Jason Jones can restore America and save the world from impending doom.
- » Individual liberty is under assault, but by working together American patriots can prevent the spread of evil and build a better future.

1. The True Nature of the Great Reset

The Great Reset is not merely an economic or political movement but an ideological assault on the very fabric of human dignity and individual liberty.

It aims to reshape global societies through a set of new ideologies that challenge our traditional understanding of humanity and its values.

“It’s really a war on the Christian understanding of the human person... first revealed in the Jewish scriptures that we are made in the image and likeness of God, and then more fully exemplified through the incarnation of Jesus Christ. This vision of the human person changed everything.” –Jason Jones

The Christian worldview, which is the foundation of Western civilization, grew through persecution and became the primary worldview of the Roman Empire. During the Middle Ages, it continued to spread as tribal peoples of northern Europe set aside their violent pagan traditions.

This perspective, that people are made in the image and likeness of God, was revolutionary and transformed societies once built on power, war, and human sacrifice.

The Christian worldview became the basis for scientific enterprise, the development of democratic forms of government, and the American Revolution.

Even the most powerful rulers have been unable to control the masses who believe themselves to be created in God’s image. It makes liberty an inevitable necessity for each individual.

In stark contrast, the Great Reset aims to strip people of their individuality and clump them together into tribes that can be more easily controlled by the elites.

“ The Great Reset... lives off five ideologies that are really evil... the counterfeit of Christian ethics. You feel good, you’re doing something, but you’re actually doing something bad.” –Kevin Freeman

It is a dangerous trap, feigning compassion while stripping the majority of their individual liberties to implement total control.

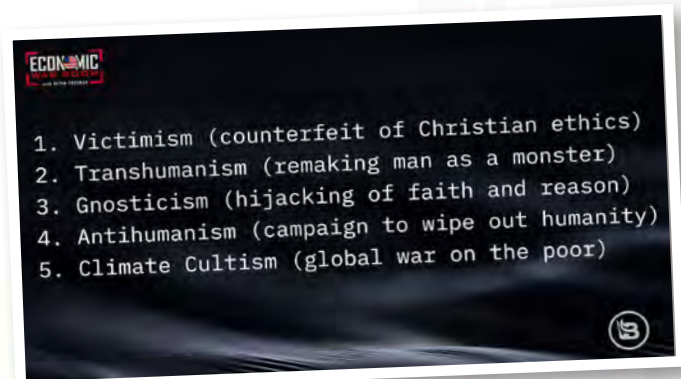

Attention: The Great Reset is an inherently anti-American and anti-human plan to prevent people from pursuing happiness by removing their individuality and their right to be free.

2. The Five Ideologies of Evil

To garner support, the Great Reset leverages twisted ideologies designed to seduce well-meaning people into submission and service. Jason Jones has broken this down into five core ideologies that function as the foundation for the Great Reset.

1) Victimism

The first of these ideologies, victimism, is an ideology through which concern for the vulnerable is feigned for power.

This ideology is commonly used by political leaders who pretend to care about the vulnerable to garner votes from both genuine and virtue-signaling individuals who see service to the vulnerable as a need.

This is a warped version of compassion and charity, ideals that come from the belief that all people are made in the image of God and deserve respect and care, especially those in need.

Victimism, ironically, keeps people victimized because if the victim was actually helped, there would be no victim anymore and the system of virtue-signaling would collapse. Instead, victimism benefits the powerful at the expense of the real victims, thus victimizing them further.

2) Climate Cultism

Victimism blends dangerously with Climate Cultism, a phenomenon that masks exploitation under environmental concerns.

“The climate cult tells us that the solution to everything is the EV (the electric vehicle). I call them BVs blood vehicles. Every electric vehicle has cobalt that was harvested by hand, by children as young as six. In that toxic muck. 80% of the world’s cobalt comes from Congo. 80% of the world’s cobalt goes to electric vehicles.” –Jason Jones

Climate Cultism has encouraged the mistreatment of people in third-world nations through slave labor as the base resources required for batteries, solar panels, and other forms of 'green' energy are rare earth metals like cobalt, lithium, cadmium, etc.

The Climate Cult focuses on protecting future generations from potential climate catastrophes, many of which are unfounded threats, instead of providing for the needs of those who are currently vulnerable.

If the Cult truly cared, they would want to improve the lives of the vulnerable around the world.

3) Anti-Humanism

Climate Cultism is just one example of the far more sinister development of anti-humanism.

This ideology involves the exploitation of vulnerable populations for economic gain, some examples being the border crisis and labor practices in the production of electronic vehicles and smartphones.

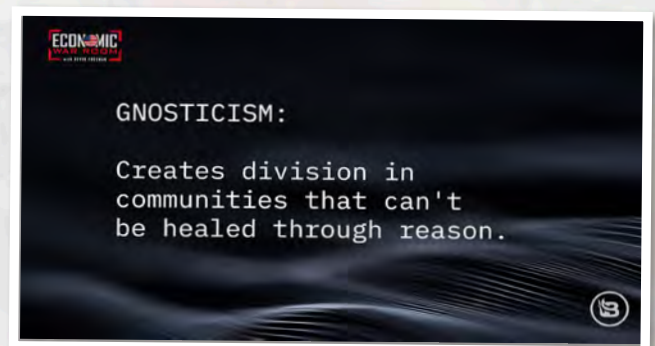

The support for this ideology is obviously the World Economic Forum as many members have made claims that the world is overpopulated.

Anytime someone claims there are too many people, the only solution to that 'problem' is to cull a portion of the human population.

Instead of seeing the intrinsic, God-given value of each human life, anti-humanism causes people to see others as less valuable or even disposable in their quest for 'utopia.'

4) Gnosticism

Interestingly, one of the ancient heresies of the earliest days of Christianity, Gnosticism, has been at the forefront of many modern organizations and movements.

Gnosticism is a system of belief that values knowledge and enlightenment over everything else. The idea is that the more enlightened people are superior to those who are less enlightened.

In the modern, secular world, this ideology is a form of intellectual elitism where 'experts' are the ruling class over the common people. This was incredibly evident during the COVID-19 pandemic as the legitimacy of a medical claim was determined by one's intellectual expertise and official certificates/degrees.

"I saw people that I loved and respected being seduced by Gnosticism, which is seductive when one is faced with what seems to be insurmountable odds. But the truth is, the Great Reset will collapse. The only question is how much damage will it do in the process? Hitler's thousand-year Reich lasted 12.5 years. Stalin lasted 29 years. The CCP may last 100 if it's lucky. Ideologies of evil (because evil is a deprivation) collapse, but it can cause a lot of pain and suffering." –Jason Jones

Gnosticism, like the other ideologies, will eventually fail. It is imperfect in its origin and thus will collapse into chaos. However, it will deal damage and try to take as much as it can with it.

5) Transhumanism

The final ideology of evil is Transhumanism. This is the idea of evolving humanity beyond its current state through new technologies.

This type of technology would begin to etch away at the fabric of the human condition, creating a new species of android halfbreeds.

It sounds like an incredible science fiction fantasy, but some projects like Neuralink are well on their way to implementation.

The danger of transhumanism is that it assumes humanity is not good enough and requires augmentation and improvement, especially when looking at people who are born with deformities or disabilities.

Transhumanism also threatens to isolate people with new technology that could erode community solidarity as augmented individuals, especially wealthy elites, could make themselves into 'superior beings' and set themselves apart.

Attention: The five ideologies of evil serve one common purpose, to crush the human spirit and encourage the masses to accept changes that empower the elites to rule over everyone and everything.

3. The Five Core Moral Principles - The Great Campaign Against the Great Reset

The battle against the Great Reset, and these evil ideologies, extends into the cultural domain, where narratives are propagated through media and entertainment.

Conscientiously engaging in cultural production and consumption is key to overcoming this attack on humanity.

In his new book The Great Campaign Against the Great Reset, Jason Jones presents five moral principles that must be employed to overcome the evils behind the Great Reset.

1) Personalism

The first of these is Personalism, the core belief of Western Civilization that all people are fearfully and wonderfully made in the image of God.

"The proper understanding of the human person... we all have a beautiful dignity an inviolable dignity and worth that is the foundation of everything humane in Western Civilization... C.S. Lewis said that if we could see ourselves as we really are, if we could see other human beings as they really are, they would be more terrifying and beautiful than angels. As we walk down the street, we would drop to our knees in awe and couldn't walk down the street. But God must have put a veil before our eyes. You could get on one of Elon Musk's rockets and go in any direction for all of eternity. And you would never meet anything as wonderful as your neighbor who leaves his trash can out for days after pickup. And you're like that jerk. But that jerk is like the most beautiful thing in the created thing in the cosmos. It's unbelievable. So we need to have a renewed reverence for the human person." –Jason Jones

If American patriots wish to stand against the Great Reset, they cannot partner with the same dehumanizing spirit that fuels it.

Instead, we must show genuine love for humanity and the incredible beauty that God has crafted into each person, even if they foolishly or intentionally support evil plans like the Great Reset. We must call them higher

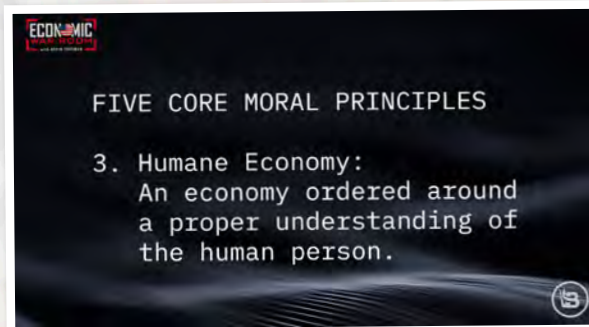

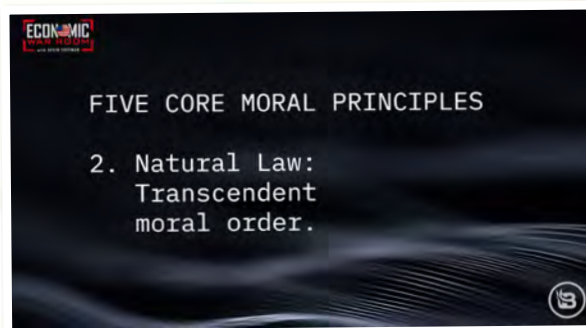

2) Transcendent Moral Order

There is a law above the laws of man. There is a law even above the WEF, the UN, the US Govt, the World Health Organization, etc. There is a law above the Twitter and Facebook policies.

The laws of man, at best, are based on the higher laws of God. At worst, they are not, in which case they are evil and rotten at their roots.

Antigone knew this to be self-evident when she was ordered by her king not to bury her brother. She said, there is a law above kings, there is a law above the gods of kings, there is a law above the law of Zeus.

There is an obvious moral code that humanity has sensed in their conscience, knowing that some things were legal but wrong, and other things were wrong but legal.

3) The Humane Economy

Following suit with a transcendent moral order, it must be understood that our economy must function within that moral order.

“The humane economy is an economy ordered around a proper understanding of the human person. That’s not driven by force, by violence, by fraud, but by respect for the human being as a creature with dignity... we want a humane economy that maximizes freedom. While ordered to the common good, not just for ourselves, but for our posterity.” –Jason Jones

We the people must treat other people as humans with incredible intrinsic worth.

This means our money needs to be where our mouth is, investing in a bright future for humanity, without burying, enslaving, or abusing those who are alive today.

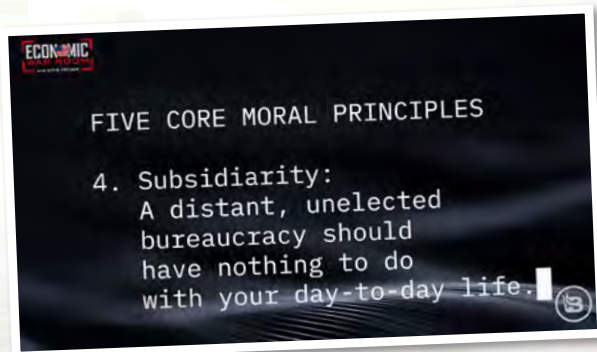

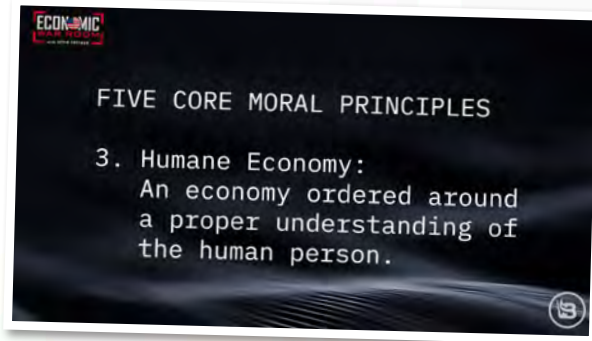

The best economy is one where all people are free to participate to the best of their ability and show the world the gold inside of them.

4) Subsidiarity

To build a society where a free economy allows all people equal opportunity, and the laws above kings can be protected, a government must be designed around the idea of subsidiarity.

Subsidiarity is defined as a principle of social organization in which social and political issues are to be dealt with at the most immediate or local level possible.

This means if you can solve the problem, solve it. If you need a friend, get a friend involved. If you need the local government, get them involved. If you need the state government, get the state involved.

This is an ideal held closely by the founders of our nation who sought to limit the power of the federal government and keep the majority of social issues close to home where the decision-makers could best be held accountable.

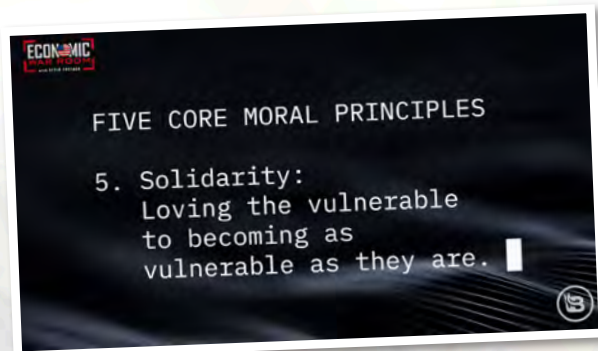

A distant, unelected bureaucracy should have nothing to do with your day-to-day life, and should have nothing to tell you. This is the danger of the EU, the UN, and the WHO. These officials are not elected by the people, they are appointed.

“Subsidiarity has to be obliterated by tyrants, you see. You saw it in Soviet Russia. You saw it in Nazi Germany. What happens is they have to obliterate those free institutions in civil society, between the person and between the state. And they’ve gotten very cunning. They’ve eviscerated all the intermediary institutions with power. Now they want to divide us from each other... It’s like CS Lewis’s vision of hell in The Great Divorce where we all have our little fire. We get further and further and further and further from each other. And the main character says, well, I get to meet Napoleon. No, he’s too far away. And soon all of us will be so far away, and soon all of our fires will go out, and it’ll be us alone in darkness. That is the Great Reset’s vision.” —Jason Jones

5) Solidarity

The key to holding all the other principles together is Solidarity.

“Solidarity to me is the key... Solidarity is loving the vulnerable to becoming as vulnerable as they are. Right? Christ said the world hated me first and then they will hate you... When Damien of Molokai left Europe he went all the way around the world in the 19th century on a sailboat to serve lepers in Hawaii, get leprosy, and die. True solidarity comes with pain and suffering. You do prison ministry, you do retirement home ministry. You work with married couples. You work with single moms that are at a pregnancy center. All of this comes with heartache and heartbreak and sadness. You have a relative that’s lied to you time and time again because of drug addiction or a gambling addiction, but you love them. You stay with them. That’s solidarity.” —Jason Jones

The only way forward is for American patriots to choose love and personal suffering over comfort and isolation. We must work together with those around us to solve each other's problems and help build a better future for all of humanity.

This was the American ethos for centuries as settlers, soldiers, and abolitionists stood in the gap for others to work toward a better tomorrow.

At the end of the day, the best way to recognize a counterfeit is to know the real thing. Victimism, and the other evil ideologies, only work because people have not experienced true compassion, true kindness, and true love.

Attention: By championing the dignity of the human person, promoting economic justice, and fostering community solidarity, we can counter the dehumanizing trends of our times. Armed with knowledge, compassion, and courage, we stand ready to defend our liberty and our values against all encroachments, ensuring a future rooted in truth, freedom, and love.
